You all are in luck! All right, for my first LFE (La Filosofía Española - Spanish Philosophy) post, I'm going to give you a video. And, you're even luckier because the video has subtitles - in English!

This is a video from the Spanish teacher, Sr. Wooly. He makes very funny Spanish videos - and it's not complicated Spanish, either; it's very basic. I like it a lot because: 1) it's animated; 2) it's on YouTube, and it's animated; 3) the story in the video is funny, cute, and sad all at the same time; 4) the song is very catchy. I probably have other reasons, too, but for now, that's enough.

Well, I hope you guys like the video! (If you couldn't tell, it's my favorite Sr. Wooly video, and probably my favorite animated music video ever.)
