

Background

Friday is a fluffy dragon.

Born in a nest with other dragons. Though her egg fell out of the nest on hatching day.

The egg ended up landing in some bushes, and was discovered by some gardeners. They brought the egg to a petstore, asking what kind of egg it was. When he was given no answer, they placed the egg in an incubator and waited.

After a few long hours, the egg started wiggling. The egg itself was a bright blue color with green and white stripes.

When the egg finally hatched, a tiny baby... Thing, appeared. The shop owner was shocked. She was unsure what to label it as. She simply lifted it up, and put it in with a litter of kittens. The mother hesitated, but she allowed this new creature, allowing it to drink her milk.

The baby dragon grew up a lot faster than the kittens did, soon becoming as big as their mother.

She meowed like a cat, purred like a cat, and acted like a cat. Having been taught by her brothers, sisters, and mother.

But when people came in to see the "cat" they were shocked to see the dragon. No one understood what she was.

Eventually, a veterinarian visited her when she was only a few weeks old, asking if she should be spayed. He then retracted his statement. "No, she must stay fertile. I wish to... See more of these... Things." He was watching her put an entire ham in her tiny mouth. "Have you decided on a name for her?"

The owner of the pet store didn't know how to reply. "Well, we found her egg on the holiday, last Friday."

"Then her name will be Holiday?" He asked.

"No... Friday." The woman replied.

After that, Friday was given a collar and tags. The petstore owner herself ended up adopting her. She was the mascot of the store for almost twenty years.

She eventually was employed as an officer of the law, and it was something she enjoyed and had been working toward for a long time.

Though the dragon was pretty overweight and slow, she still found time to do her job and have fun outside her work.

Friday often plays with her boyfriend Astro, but often can be found working off new meals. Take caution to make sure you won't end up her next one.

Her appetite is large, and you seem pretty good right about now.

Traits

Friday loves to be hugged!
She also loves tails, especially her tail. Chances are she will hug any tail that's grabbable.
Despite being a rather large dragon, she still acts like a cat!
