

THE PAW-POST

NOV/30/2018
ARTIST HIGHLIGHT:
HOWL!

By TC, Sera, Mr-Pink, KampferWolf, CATHulu, Roy & ImpXimon

And just like that, November is done! Wow, just one more month of 2018. Sadly - no kayaking in this month; not because it's cold (I have cold-weather gear), but because it was raining EVERY single day I had off, except one, which was 30 knot winds. :| Boooo.

It switched from rain to snow this week too - and uh, keep an eye out on TideKeeper's gallery in the next week for a picture that perfectly sums up my opinion of winter. Trust me, you'll know it when you see it. ;)

Most Pawesome Picture

<https://www.furaffinity.net/view/29526945/>

“Micro Dominance” by KurtCbRox

(C3 -- nsfw -- m x6 -- wolf & other -- micro, macro, bdsm, foot-worship)

Now there is something you don't see very often - micro's dominating a macro! And also some very lucky micro's getting in some great up and close time with that pup's big, soft and gorgeous footpaws. This is a nice BIG hi-res image, so you can really appreciate the detail Kurt put into it. I love that there are multiple folks enjoying those nice feet, and it's a fun/playful theme too.

Believe it or not, this was another tricky week for picking the Most-Pawesome, and when you see some of the VVP's below, I think you'll see why! Thanks to Sera as usual for the help on making the final choice here. :)

Mr-Pink's Random Music Pick

Yoshihiro Sakaguchi - “Ducktales - Moon theme” - 1990

This tune is just so enjoyable.

CAThulu's Random Music Pick

Skrillex - "Bangarang" - 2011

I rediscovered this when tidying up my Youtube account last week. I still love it ^_^

TC's Random Music Pick

Power Station - "We Fight for Love" - 1985

The end-credits song for the 1985 blockbuster "Commando." First off, if you've not seen Commando, I don't think there's any better movie to sum up 1980s action hero flicks. *laughs* The song was a great choice lyrically because the whole premise of the movie is that the lead character John Matrix (played by Arnold Schwarzenegger) will stop at nothing to rescue his beloved daughter, played by Alicia Milano. I love it - just a very 1980s, hard rock hero song, totally fitting for Arnie.

    - I so love Ragged Jack! Let me just quote what I posted on this one on RedFeather's page: "Yesssssss! That is awesome! Argh, okay where to start. XD His hair! Love the braid idea - you know, I don't think I've ever seen a character with it before. Oh Ragged Jack it just adds one more thing for your wide-eyes to kinda linger on as you try to process him. :3 Next, holy moly - he's got a striped fun-stick! Haaa... that is just cool. XD Next is the sort of "staggered" approach he's got going here with this pose. You have "three" choices, in principle, but the pose is basically saying "start on my right foot, work your way up" - all while he pours himself a drink to watch and enjoy. And then, of course, there are those awesome feet of his. You did such an amazing job on the texturing - they just flow with the curves and structure of his foot so well. With Jack, that's his skin, not just something he's wearing so... yeah, love how tight and perfect it looks. Very spectacular picture!" -- TC

NOTE: Just because an artist is not marked with "paw-friendly" doesn't mean they don't draw paws - just that I'm not sure if it's a theme they do a lot. I try to use that indicator when the artist is known to draw paws a lot, or has confirmed they don't mind the subject. Also be aware that this is a point-in-time list - it is accurate right of the Paw-Post's release, but may change as slots fill up. Always check!

Some Q&A

(TC) G'Day Howl! Welcome to the Paw-Post - thanks for joining us for a bit. :) You're all the way from Mr. Pink's (one of our editors) neck of the woods - Scotland! *looks over your info* So... you have been drawing a long time - since you were a kid. What got you started?

(Howl) Been drawing since I could hold a crayon, really. Always liked it as long as I can remember. When I first got a computer and the internet, I seen other people's awesome digital works and thought 'that's what I wanna do' so I asked my parents for a digital tablet, they got me a cheap, crappy thing and off I went.

(TC) Ah, so sort of a personal thing you just loved, but on seeing what else was out there, the spark became a flame - nice! What ended up drifting you towards furry art? Was that a personal choice (IE, you identify with it a lot yourself) or more of a business decision?

(Howl) I always liked drawing animals and I've always had an interest in fantasy which kind of led me to furies. Drawing NSFW Furry stuff was more of a business choice than anything. Personally I'm more interested in storytelling and the more SFW aspects of things.

(TC) Interesting - so a bit of a lean to furry-themed stuff, and it sorta resulted in finding the fandom. Yeaaaaah, the NSFW thing is a tricky one in the fandom - do only SFW art, and it seems there's less interest when it comes to commissions and such. I adore stories and depth to things myself - even if it goes into NSFW territory - still has so much more depth when there's background behind it. Now...your info template mentions you are predominantly asexual; do you find that gives you a sense of detachment from the fetish work?

(Howl) Definitely. Not very much interests me when it comes to fetish, and like you say it's a lot more interesting when there's a story attached, or you can glean some hints of a story from the picture. Needless to say, generic pictures of furies with their junk out, or doing the dirty just kinda... bore me. That's one of the reasons I began to make slave themed things, because it can give hints to a wider picture, a story, I can show more ranges of emotion in them, while at the same time it's NSFW for the folks who like that stuff.

(TC) I think that's an unique perspective to have too in that you don't get caught up in the kink, rather, more in the making of the scene you're trying to depict - and for anyone wanting a "themed" picture, that's fantastic. Like, in one of your latest pictures (<https://www.furaffinity.net/view/29544028/>) which has a paw theme, I like that this tells a playfully little story. Do you most enjoy when people give you that sort of commission?

(Howl) Yeah I like those types of commissions more than generic porn for sure. I'm also a fan of artistic freedom in commissions as well. What I really hope to do is make a comic though, you may have seen some works in my Gallery about Terra Cruxis - my own world where I have numerous stories planned. Finding the support to do that is difficult though, so most of the time I just have to take commissions to get by.

(TC) Ahhh - see, pay attention to that readers - commissions with a backstory and some artistic freedom if you commission her! *looks back at Howl* Makes sense. And yes, I've seen some of the comic work - very good story and emotional conveyance. The problem of finding time to work on personal muse vs. making ends meet is always a tricky one for a career artist though. What do you find is the most challenging type of thing to draw?

(Howl) Heavily detailed armor, robots, insects, futuristic stuff mostly, I'm not really a fan of that kind of thing I prefer more medieval, fantasy, low technology type things and nature for sure.

(TC) Oh man, yeah - with as crazy as some of the armour can be in MMOs, I can totally get that one. So there we go - more stuff for readers to consider in reaching out to you. :) Now, wouldn't be the Paw-Post if I didn't ask a few Paw-specific things, hurr. So not surprisingly you're here because you happen to draw some nice paw stuff from time to time in your work. Were you surprised to learn that paws/feet were one of the many sorta things people were into?

(Howl) Nah. I was more surprised to find people wearing diapers and shitting themselves to be something people were into to be honest. No offense intended. Paws/Feet in comparison to a lot of the stuff that's out there is pretty tame.

(TC) *gags* Guhhh...uh yeah, there are some pretty messed up fetishes out there. Oh and if you don't know that one, readers, for godsake, DON'T look it up. There are things you can't unsee. <_< So yeah...honestly, that's what I've always loved about the foot/paw thing - it's quite tame, if not one of the most tame of the kinks floating around the world. And from doing this Paw-Post stuff a while now, I've encountered all sorts of different levels of it - some folks just adoring them aesthetically only. So what's your personal take on feet/footpaws?

(Howl) I don't really have much of an opinion on them to be honest. I guess indifferent is the best way to put it. Though animal paws can be fun to draw, other types of feet are more a pain in the arse to draw.

(TC) Heh - well, that does allow you to keep to a theme more than injecting personal tastes into paw-themed stuff though, so that's cool. And yes...we have a classification system for them - human-like feet, C1, are darn tricky because the proportions are more complicated, plus our brains are hard-wired to know right away if something looks off. You draw really nice ones though, so I do hope more folks bring themed ideas to you with them. Do you think you'd ever try doing a comic idea if someone came to you with one that was paw-themed?

(Howl) I wouldn't mind, but I only recently started doing comics so my experience with them is pretty low at the moment. They're really time intensive too so for commissions I'd only be willing to do short ones, a few pages, and they would be rather expensive due to the time needed to make even a single page. If price doesn't dissuade you though feel free to ask me about comic commissions.

(TC) Well, what better way to practice doing comics! I think most paw-themed ones are only a few panels long, so for those interested, that would probably work perfectly. When you do get to draw paw-stuff, what do you find to be the most challenging aspect of that type of picture? Or, what's the most rewarding aspect?

(Howl) Perspective is probably the most challenging, at least the more extreme perspectives anyway such as having the feet front and center and taking up most of the image, it can be difficult to for the rest of the body in there properly. As for rewarding, probably the variety of poses, I definitely prefer the full body images showing paws as opposed to a foot-in-the-face type image.

(TC) Perspective is evil. XD Very tricky to get right, particularly when the theme focuses on the foot/feet rather than the traditional areas of the image. Variety is lovely - again, with a theme/story to the image it's just so much more interesting. Expressive too. So what do you have lined up for your art in the future - planning to move into comic-themed stuff and expand commission offerings?

(Howl) I would love to work more on Terra Cruxis and my comic, sure, but that really depends on if I can get support for it. I have to pay bills and eat so a lot of the time I wind up just taking commissions over any of my personal ideas. I do have plans for my comic and world but mostly I need to focus on just surviving. I already offer commissions of any type and do various YCHs as well. If people want something not listed on my commission page then all they gotta do is ask ❤️

(TC) I really hope you can find that balance - it seems the right sort of commission ideas paired with enough time to work on your own stuff would just be a dream come true. Hint hint anyone wanting to commission her! Did you have any questions you wanted to ask me before we finish up?

(Howl) I hope to work on my comic project full time in the future, or at least mostly full time. I have a patreon set up for it thought right now it's still very low so I don't get to work on more than one comic page a month, I hope that changes in the future! As for questions, nope. I hope you enjoyed reading!

(TC) I have! Great to get the perspective of an artist who draws for the sake of interest in the scenario and story more than just the subject. So to finish up - is there anything you would like to say to the readers of the Paw-Post, your watchers and fans - any new things coming up - the floor is yours!

(Howl) Stay awesome guys. If you want to check out my gallery feel free, comments are always loved! If the sound of my comic interests you, all the current pages are posted on my gallery, and if you'd like to help out, you can find a patreon link on my main page. Thanks for listening to a no one like me and have a good holiday season ❤️

(TC) Thanks for joining us Howl! And yes, the rest of you head over to her page and check out the gallery for quite an array of colourful work, stuff with a lot of emotional punch, and yes...some paws from time to time. :P Give her a watch and maybe shoot some fun themed commission ideas her way!

And that's a wrap for this week (and month)! Thanks for taking the time to stop by and read again, and thanks to those who also offer up their words of thanks and heads-up on stuff! On that note - please always feel free to contact me if you see a picture of offer you think might be good here. Contrary to popular believe, I am not remotely aware of everything paw-related going on out there! :P Have a great weekend everyone!

TC
