

Web Platform API design guidelines that aren't in the TAG's Design Principles yet

This document is intended to be an informal place to collect API design guidelines that come up while reviewing Chromium specifications. Eventually we hope to collate them into patches to the Design Principles, but you don't need to be that formal when recording thoughts into this document.

Your principle here

Explanation here