Subject Line: I looked at myself in the mirror and burst into tears.

It was as if the gods had granted me the elixir of power.

I did it, I looked at myself in the mirror and I could hardly recognize myself.

Years and years of constant physical and mental pain GONE.

In a matter of months my body transformed from an overweight loser who couldn't even touch his toes to competing in ultramarathons for fun.

I was no longer the adorable loser, the kid with mountain high stacks of pizza boxes in his room, with no plans for the weekend

The guy who started a new diet on Monday and by Tuesday was stuffing his face with ice cream.

I was now the big guy on campus, the man who commanded respect from other, the playboy who had all the girls begging for his attention.

This took me years to achieve, but I have the formula on how to turn your life around in a matter of months and not years.

This is the secret recipe of how I revolutionized my body from an ugly man child to a larger than life greek god in just a couple years.
