

Summer is here, Get ready!

Hi Paul,

Love your commitment to developing confidence and skill to all-level players in the sport.

Looking at the top-performing coaching businesses, I noticed they've been applying certain growth principles in the promotion of their services, that you could apply too.

These simple steps will guide more enthusiastic clients to your business and grow your awareness online, making you a major exponent of the tennis coaching world.

Does it sound good to you?

If you'd like to hear what these principles and strategies are, answer this email with a "enlighten me" and I'll be glad to send them out to you.

Kind regards,
Juan Pablo Diaz.
