

Quick Tip #28 - 180 days

I love all the sharing that teachers have been doing on the Twittiverse about the #1st5days of school. I'm so excited to see that classes are going to be collaborating with each other... that they're going to be learning about each other, that they're going to have little challenges to see how to work well together.

Now it's time for a challenge. What about the next 175 days?

Let's keep this up every day of the year. Because we know that every day counts. Let's build in those options for students to be collaborative, to be able to learn from each other, to share with each other, to talk to each other and get to know each other better. Let's build those into every single day of the school year.

You know you can.

You know that if you put it as your priority, it will happen.

Let's make this our best year ever.
