This is a picture of Year 1 taking action. They wanted to make a human number line so that they could see how many jumps it would take to make the number bigger.