Best GHD flat iron

Where would we be without GHDs? The cult hair-tool brand was founded back in 2001, and didn't take long to gain global recognition for creating some of the best hair straighteners to ever appear at salons, on dressing tables and in gym changing rooms around the globe. GHD Flat Irons are the bomb!

The genuine power of the brand's instantly smoothing straightening irons is just as apparent today as it was a decade ago; GHD remains a market leader, has won 300 awards globally, and still sees top stylists everywhere in agreement about its second-to-none styling results. Through its consistent ceramic-heat technology and tried-and-tested damage-minimizing 185°C sweet spot, the 'good hair day' promise continues to be well and truly fulfilled nearly two decades on.

Our round-up of the best hair straightener brushes for sleek and volumized hair Dyson Corrale vs GHD Platinum+: which high-tech straightener wins out?

Looking for the best straighteners for curly hair? Here they are...

Within that 20 years there have been many new launches, too, meaning there's more than the much-loved original styler on offer – new 'intuitive' models that claim to reduce breakage and protect your color, for example. So, how do you know what's the right product for you?

When you're considering paying a triple-figure sum for a hair tool, it needs to meet your exacting needs, so we analyzed everything from size and weight to ease and speed of styling – also taking into account cost – so that you can make the best choice (and investment) possible.

Without further ado, here's the beauty editor verdict on the full GHD hair straightener offering.

GHD platinum flat iron

GHD flat iron reviews

We don't need to tell you that GHD's Platinum Styler flatiron is bae. It's already got two Best of Beauty awards to prove it. The wildly easy-to-use tool truly takes the guesswork out of straightening your hair. All it has is a single button that heats up the tool to 365 degrees and keeps it that way so your hair doesn't get too fried. But having an award-winning straightener wasn't enough for the folks at GHD. They just had to be extra — and thank goodness, because we're all poised to benefit from it with the brand's new release, the Platinum + Styler.

The GHD Platinum+ Styler claims to be the world's first predictive straightener, meaning it takes into consideration the thickness or thinness of your hair in order to determine the amount of power it needs to get your hair straight and maintain the ideal 365-degree styling temperature. That way, you can straighten your hair evenly with minimal damage or having to worry about the iron getting too hot. Say you have super thick hair or are styling a thick section. The Platinum+ Styler will exert more power to straighten it than if you've got thin hair or are passing the iron over a thinner section. GHD says to expect 70 percent less breakage, 20 percent more shine, and twice the color protection if you use their brand-new, $249 iron.

You can't really overestimate the importance of hair when it comes to your overall appearance. It's virtually your first "natural" fashion accessory, and the way it looks affects everything else about you. That's why most women take such great effort to maintain their hair, and why "bed hair" and "travel hair" can be such a pain.

But with the GHD hair straightener, these problems aren't really all that serious any more. This GHD styler is a true classic in every sense of the word. You can use it to make your hair straight and smoother, and you can also use it to come up with curls and twirls.

Is GHD ceramic or titanium?

If you are looking for a ghd flat iron that is designed to ensure snag-free styling and deliver a professional finish, this product is designed for you. The Styler adopts an advanced ceramic heat technology. This technology allows the plates to heat fast and consistently.

Is a GHD flat iron worth it?

GHD flat iron is not only perfect for sporting different types of hairstyles, but because of the iron's sleek design you will be able to get the iron close to your head in different angles. All in all, the GHD flat iron is perfect for helping you get rid of that annoying frizz in your hair.

Which is better GHD or BaByliss?

CONCLUSION. With the latest technology incorporated, comes higher cost. The cost of GHD Platinum+ Straightener is higher as it is the first smart hair straightener in the world. BaByliss PRO uses Nano Titanium technology and is found to cost less than the Platinum+ straightener of GHD.

Are GHD still the best straighteners?

GHD, a go-to favourite for many, lived up to its reputation in our blind tests. This lightweight straightener was the panel's favourite and the highest-scorer in this year's line-up. The barrel is rounded to make creating curls and waves easier, and our testers had no trouble using it for a variety of styles.

Why GHD straighteners are so good?

GHD was the first company to use ceramic plates in their straighteners. Ceramic is the perfect material for hair straighteners because it conducts heat the most effective and it allows the iron to slide through the hair without snagging.
