DEPARTMENT OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS CLASS-D
PERSONNEL PROFILE NO. 2259

Personnel Name:

Evan Ickarus Graye

Personnel ID Number:

Disposable-2259

Known Nicknames/Callsigns:

'Ickle', 'Fudge', 'Evvie G', 'Big E', 'God', 'Dealer'

Background:

Evan Graye was born on 01/03/98, in Harp County, Kentucky. Not much is known regarding his early life, other than that he was homeschooled by his "frequently intoxicated parents" (as described by town locals) and that he was frequently seen alone, typically avoiding others and sometimes even flat-out ignoring them. Shortly after turning 21, Evan was accepted into Dawson Protection, a Private Security Company that spans their operations across the South and Midwest of the USA.

On 04/11/19, Dawson Protection was exposed for operating a major weapons trafficking operation, which catered to various criminal organizations and cartels. Given certain groups they worked with, rumors circulated proposing the theory that the company had also partaken in other major offenses such as drug distribution and human trafficking, though these particular claims were never proven, as Dawson Employees covered up as much of their wrongdoing as they could before legal action could be implemented.

Evan was apprehended on 04/20/19 by members of the ATF and US Marshals Service during a joint ops raid on his apartment as he was attempting to pack up and flee the Country. He initially resisted arrest, but eventually decided to cooperate with law enforcement to shorten his sentence, ratting out a handful of his former co-workers that he disliked. He refused to give the names of his superiors however, as he claimed they would "Turn me into an internet video." He was sentenced to 20 years with a chance of parole within Harp County Jail, which was chosen given its status as a Medium Security Penitentiary and the fact that Evan himself originated from Harp County, which he had requested to be placed close to. However, following [DATA EXPUNGED] Evan was sentenced to death row in Maddox County Detention Center, a Maximum Security Penitentiary, where he was eventually taken in by the Foundation on 02/21/█.

Following the Containment Failure at Site-19's offshore Sister Site, █, Evan was transferred to SCI Pathos-III, where he managed to vanish off the Foundation's radar entirely a mere two days after arriving. He is spotted very occasionally by members of the Security Department milling around Site-Omicron, but somehow seems to disappear whenever they go in to question him. Out of the 381 days (as of this document's creation) that he has been a member of Class-D Personnel, he has only been seen at roll call once, and has never been seen at work periods, shower time, breakfast, lunch, or dinner. He has also managed to avoid the monthly termination list and (most times) the testing roster. Despite attempts to pry information from other Class-D Personnel, none have agreed to give information on his whereabouts, seemingly out of fear that he would harm or kill them for giving him up.

BEHAVIOR:

To be determined, Evan hasn't been observed enough to make a viable analysis. It is currently recommended that any personnel who see him proceed with caution and report his whereabouts to their superior immediately.
