

Apocalypse vs Hulk

Alephion AKA Apocalypse. 15 feet tall. 1800 pounds. Then we have Bruce Banner AKA Hulk. 8 feet tall and 1400 pounds.

The battle takes place in the Airport. The battle will start when Black Widow says go. She says go. Bruce and Alephion go up to each other and shake hands. Afterwards, Alephion undergoes his transformation and so does Hulk as well. Hulk is fearless looking at Apocalypse's massive size, almost double his size. Apocalypse on the other hand, is looking fearless as well, knowing how strong hulk can be.

Apocalypse kicks Hulk away around 40 feet. Hulk quickly regains his footing. Hulk does a roar towards Apocalypse, followed up by Apocalypse roaring at Hulk as well. They then begin charging at each other, slamming into each other, clashing with one another, trying to shove one another. Unfortunately for Hulk, he was "calm", so he was easily lifted by Apocalypse and thrown into the ground from 12 feet high. Hulk quickly got up and charged at Apocalypse again, hitting him with a very mean spear and pinning Apocalypse to the ground. Apocalypse quickly tossed him aside and charged at Hulk, grabbing him with the appendages and pinning Hulk to the ground. Apocalypse, recognizing his helpless state, began punching Hulk in the face with the remaining two hands, alternating hands. Hulk has enough and grabbed both of the hands and slung Apocalypse towards a city.

Apocalypse then falls towards the base of a building and crashes there, followed up by Hulk jumping in front of him just some meters away. Apocalypse then gets up and taunts Hulk by roaring at him, with Hulk retaliating with another roar. Apocalypse then quickly charges at Hulk and grabs him, slamming him down, throwing him up towards another building and jumps after him, crashing into him through one side of the building and out the other side, followed up by him doing a Brilliant Beam, plummeting him into the ground next to a car. Apocalypse then lands in front of Hulk a few tens of meters off from him and does a roar. Hulk then gets up and tosses the aforementioned car towards Apocalypse, hitting him in the torso, making him stumble. Hulk tosses another car towards Apocalypse, this time with him blocking it with his Appendages. Hulk then tosses yet another car, this time Apocalypse catches it and throws it back towards hulk, hitting Hulk in the face and knocking him backwards. Hulk then spits out a tooth. Apocalypse shows slight fear and does an "Uh-oh" roar.

Hulk is pissed now. Hulk immediately charges towards Apocalypse, tackling him through the base of a building into a hotel lobby. Hulk does as many blows as he could as Apocalypse is lowered towards him. Apocalypse gets a punch in towards Hulk, but that just made him more angry. So Hulk then tackles Apocalypse towards a bathroom and pins him on the bathroom floor, then followed up by him grabbing a urinal off of a wall and slamming it onto Apocalypse's face. Apocalypse grasps his own face while slamming Hulk out of the bathroom and into the street.

Apocalypse gets mad, pissed even. Apocalypse then yellow eyes turn crimson. He then follows up by a louder roar, signifying he is absolutely pissed. He then goes on a rampage towards Hulk, throwing a car towards him, a random tree, and a fire hydrant. Then he changes a Brilliant

Beam and shoots it at hulk, plummeting him down the street some blocks. Hulk then retaliated by grabbing 2 street poles and stabbing Apocalypse through the stomach. Apocalypse is slightly pained, however he pulls out the two street poles from his stomach and hits Hulk with them several times before kicking hulk away towards a blockage of police/swat cars down the street. The police and swat are not intervening due to it being futile.

Apocalypse and Hulk then stand up, doing a standoff towards each other, staring each other down 3 city blocks away from each other. Apocalypse's eyes begin to flicker. They then turn orange, meaning he is in full rampage mode. He wants to end this. Hulk is at max anger. He wants to end this as well. This is anybody's battle. Hulk and Apocalypse both in unison do a roar towards each other. Then they charge towards each other, with Hulk going full speed, and Apocalypse going on all sixes and charging towards him. Within a moment's notice, “CRASH!” They collide with each other, sending a shockwave that breaks windows, knocks out lights, sets off car alarms, and creates a big boom sound heard from across the globe.

Apocalypse and Hulk then exchange punches towards each other, just going at it. Punch after punch after punch. They were charging up another punch towards each other. With both punches about to connect to each other, someone intervened. It was Natasha Romanoff, known as Black Widow. She stopped the match. “Look at what you did!” said her. Hulk and Apocalypse looked around in unison, seeing the entire city's law enforcement, the military, and many MCU hero factions around them just watching them duke it out. “I think we should call this a draw.” Apocalypse untransforms, turning himself back to Alephion. “Yes. Let's call this a draw, sir.” he said to hulk. Hulk untransforms to Bruce Banner. “A draw indeed, Alephion.” he says. They both then shake hands and hug it out. “It's all love man. It's all love.” says Alephion. “Yeah yeah.” Bruce replies.

With that, Bruce, Alephion, and the Avengers go back to their HQ. With a unanimous vote, Tony Stark aka Iron Man and Steve Rogers aka Captain America | Founder of the Avengers, then grant Alephion Zayinir, also known as Apocalypse, as an official Avenger in the MCU Universe.
