Healthy words for healthy people

Hi Olivia,

Like many men with women problems, I found you on YouTube today and I've been watching a lot of your videos. I like your style; empathetic and straight to the point. You're doing a lot of good for a lot of men.

I was clicking around your online profiles and found this [link to online course]

I'm confident you've got a lot of insights to share here, but I can't help but notice, the course doesn't have any kind of written description.

Honestly, I'm a copywriter, looking to work with brands I know, like and trust. I'd love to write a course description for you for free.

All I'd need from you, is a list of the modules or some kind of description of what it is you're covering.

If you're interested, let me know.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Thanks,
Paul
