

Hi [Manager Name],

I'm interested in continuing my professional development and driving value for our company by learning insights and frameworks designed for strong engineers. To do this, I signed up for Taro Premium, which offers case studies and solutions that are directly applicable for engineers.

Taro is an online platform that allows the top SWEs and EMs to share best practices and frameworks relevant to full-time engineers. You can learn more from joinTaro.com. Taro Premium consists of expert-led courses and a searchable database of engineering questions. It costs [Insert Cost].

Here's why I think Taro is a good fit:

- Taro Premium only requires a few hours of commitment per month, so it won't distract from my day-to-day work.
- I'll be coached by an experienced operator, so I can benchmark against and learn from the best.
- Taro helps me understand the main barriers to promotion and higher impact. Topics include "effective code review", "impactful 1:1s", and "working with XFN partners"
- Taro is far less than the price of a career coach. I'll learn from engineering leaders at a fraction of the cost of other executive coaching programs.

I am happy to provide a report of my key takeaways and recommendations to share with the rest of the team. If you have any further questions about Taro, feel free to email team@jointaro.com.

Could you please approve the reimbursement for this expense?

Best,
