

RBHS Course Request Form (CRF) - Directions (grade 10,11,12)

Refer to the course offerings list for selecting courses to fill out this course request form (CRF).

Your English class will come to the Bronco Center where you will meet with your counselor 1-on-1 to review your course selections on this sheet. Corrections can be made during your meeting.

Your counselor will keep this form after you have met. Take a picture of your form before leaving it with your counselor during your Bronco Center visit. You will need this info to input courses into Synergy at a later time.

ONCE DIRECTED by your teacher or counselor, enter the course numbers from your CRF into Synergy.

After this process, if you have new questions about your class choices, you can see your counselor before school, during break, lunch or after school beginning the week of March 2. Counselors will not schedule appointments, but are available for drop-ins during break times.

- ❖ It is helpful to inquire with your current teachers for recommendations on what you should take in their subject area each year. They are familiar with your present ability levels to best guide you if you are not sure about what comes next.
- ❖ AP courses are taught at a college level. These classes are much more difficult than an honors or college prep class, often requiring an average student 2 hours per AP class daily. Students should have received an A or B in the previous year's regular course (when applicable), or a C or higher in the previous year's honors course.
