

Know Your Canada Immigration Application Status Online!

It is possible to check the status of an immigration application by using the Canada immigration status service. Client Application Status, also known as the CAS of Canada's Citizenship and Immigration Department, allows people to view the status of their immigration application online, 24 hours a days Canada Visa Application Online.

Information regarding application status is updated every week. There are many other statuses that can also be checked on the website of Canada Citizenship and Immigration Department.

People who are able to use the service

The Citizenship and Immigration Department offers an online service that allows you to check the status of different types of Canada immigration applications.

Canadian citizenship application

Any Canadian citizen who adopted a person can apply for the citizenship

Documentation proving citizenship

Formulary to renounce or resume Canadian citizenship status

There are not many other options than visiting the Citizenship and Immigration Department website on a weekly basis to check his Canada immigration status. For those who are already in Canada, several call centers can be reached to get a complete update on the status of his application. Contacting the Canadian Embassy and Consulate for that purpose may also prove useful.

All the information you need

It is essential that everyone remembers that online checking one's status on an application requires certain documents and information. These documents include a copy of all letters and documents sent or received by the Citizenship and Immigration Department, Canada in relation to Canada's immigration application.

A copy of the Canadian citizenship application as well as the financial receipts is important. It is important to check for updates regularly, as processing times vary depending on the type of application and any special circumstances.

Anybody who has applied for a Canadian residential visa is eligible to check his Canada immigration application status online if he or she is sponsoring a member of the family class, applied for a permanent residence from inside the country or from abroad, or has applied for a grant of citizenship.

Instead of a more immigration-friendly policy, the skilled worker and investors, as well as businessmen, should be given preference by the government. They can expect to receive their immigration applications processed quicker than other applicants.

Although there are many websites and call centers that provide information on Canada's immigration status updates, the CIC official site is the best to access the most current status of any Canada immigration request.