Need you to move fast on this one. A product of the futura project, previously unaccounted for, appears to have surfaced rather publically in a location we don't have great coverage of. It goes without saying that we prefer she not fall into the hands of our numerous sister organizations, many of which are not as civically minded as ourselves.

You're going to be our first in team, a friendly is going to arrange for you to be sleeved and issued gear. Given I don't expect you'll be able to convincingly impersonate a genuine inhabitant of the habitat, I've taken the liberty of arranging for a clever set of psychosurgical cutouts to be installed before your arrival that will help you blend in. On your end, this is going to mean you might 'wake up' some time after you've been resleeved. Try not to think about it too much. It's nothing permanent and I'll make sure it doesn't interfere with your ability to do the job.

Your mission is to protect Ruchel Shemets. If you can't keep her safe, get her out of there. If you can't get her out of there, make sure nobody else can either. Watch out for the kids too. We don't know if they've also got the bug, nobody's ever tested for that.
