Gamzey is a young dragon that often lives alone while his father is on deployment and other work, having taken up bad habits through the lack of supervision

Personality

Intoxicated: Either from alcohol or medical herbs, Gamzey is extremely laid back and nonchalant when drunk or high, very rarely becoming angered during this state.

Gamzey cares a lot about his friends, and would risk his life to defend them if he ever had to. Gamzey often intoxicates himself whenever he leaves the house or when he's around his friends, he prefers to be in an inebriated state whenever around others.

Sober: Gamzey does not like being sober. Neutrally, he is apathetic and very aggressive. Only remaining "friendly" to those he knows because of him getting to know them while inebriated. Gamzey is prone to staring into space or at others, either from being lost in thought or dissociation. He's willing to endanger himself through picking fights or stealing consumables despite already having his share.

History

2999-3006

Gamzey's father was the most present in his early childhood, having only been absent whenever he would be off on deployment. The young electric dragon ended up missing his entire first year of schooling due to low coin in the family, this garnered Gamzey's father to work even while off deployment so that his child could attend the Temple like how his older cousin was doing. His flight mates and master were kind enough to help him catch up after he was inserted to an active flight a year later.

3007-3009

Starting technically his second year of schooling, Gamzey's father became more absent, working overtime to save up for food and schooling later on, but stayed in touch with Gamzey through letters. For about 2 years, Gamzey was (sometimes) looked after by his older cousin, Titanius. The Earth dragon didn't like Gamzey too well, much less wanted to look after him, but his parents made him.

3010-3015

Titanius stopped checking on Gamzey completely at this point, the electric dragon now fully unsupervised began to fall under bad influences and took up a questionable habit. Gamzey began to receive letters more often, a fair bit of them having coin and tips on how to save portions and how to use them sparingly if he ever wants to get something purely for himself. After experimenting with substances he had somehow gotten his hands on, Gamzey discovered that his "nerves" had disappeared. All the wrong thoughts he would have would vanish when he consumed anything that would inebriate him, he could be normal again.

Gamzey started to become genuinely acquainted with others and formed bonds with some dragons around his age. He'd basically off put most of his own flight, but he managed to find dragons of other flights to befriend. Gamzey would take any insults at his friends to heart and often get into fights due to this, one instance leaving him with a chipped chest plate.

Early 3016

Early in the year, Gamzey received a letter from his father, like usual, but this one had a promise. He was gonna get to spend time with his dad again after years. The whole 4 moons Gamzey was looking forward to soldiers returning from deployment.

3016, Fourth Moon, days 13 & 14

He'd seen the lights of the Crescent Hall Celebration (and the even brighter light show the Stormbringer made at the Ancestor temple), but didn't think to snoop in since it'd seemed most soldiers were asked to join, including clan soldiers. Once the next day came however, it wasn't his father that had arrived home, but Titanus. Gamzey was more than annoyed to see him and insisted he leave, but the Earth dragon wouldn't leave without telling him something. With a long face, Titanus was there to tell the electric dragon that his father had perished days earlier.

3016, rest of the Fourth & Fifth moons

Gamzey fell into hysterics upon having fully registered the death of his father, tearing up his own home with both his physical and Element in a fit of rage, he stopped "medicating" himself and became extremely hostile; ultimately severely injuring two of his flight mates and almost killing one of them (though he himself didn't leave unscathed either) as they made attempts to "calm him down". Eventually he was taken down by a student from a parallel flight thanks to her experience in The Rings.

Coming the winter months, Gamzey barely even thought of attending the temple, too caught up in his inner turmoil and trying to sustain himself in his ruined living space. Eventually however, he was taken in by Magmatail when a member of the clan noticed him walking aimlessly in the midst of snow without anything to protect him from the cold. At first he refused their help, but as the Magmatail persisted Gamzey gave in, planning on only staying a short while before disappearing; but, once he'd interacted with other members, he didn't feel like leaving anymore.

Abilities

Element

Gamzey only really trains his Electricity whenever the subject comes up at the temple, though recent events made his mastery spike up a fair bit, though not enough for him to reach Learner

Magic

Gamzey only knows basic magic from what he is taught at the temple

Physical

Gamzey is very tall, and has something akin to a sleeper build. Appearing to have an average or even lanky looking body, but proves to be much stronger than he looks.

Family

Kurloz (Father, deceased)

??? (Aunt)

??? (Uncle)

Titanius (Cousin)

Relationships

Kurloz: The two care for each other dearly, with Gamzey's dad never missing a week to send a letter, and the Electricity dragon sending one back. Gamzey's dad managed to exchange 1000 coins for a Herculean Coin (or Crown) and sent it to him. The letter with it said that he could use it for whatever Gamzey wanted, but he hasn't spent it at all. Keeping it as a reminder of his dad's efforts, and is hell bent on not using it

Tavros: The smaller Earth dragon is Gamzey's closest friend. They both have on going inside jokes and often in act stupid bits with each other. Gamzey helped Tavros with his self esteem and confidence through their friendship, and encouraged him to speak his mind, though Tavros only seems to be more confident with Gamzey. Tavros has heard of how Gamzey is while sober, mostly from Vantras and Gamzey himself, but prefers to keep the topic on low.

Vantras: Maybe not compared to Tavros, but Vantras is another of Gamzey's close friends. Gamzey doesn't take Vantras' insults seriously, and makes an effort to check on him if he feels something is off with the smaller dragon. Vantras is one of the few dragons that has seen Gamzey while sober, and is understandably terrified of him when not intoxicated. Vantras feels on edge when he starts to notice the electric dragon sobering.

Titanius: Gamzey and his cousin don't get along much, having been called a creep and miss treated by him while he was meant to be cared for while his dad was gone. There's a sour silence between the two nearly every time the two come into contact through Gamzey's aunt and uncle.

Trivia

- Gamzey's name is the mix of the name Gamzee (the character he's based on) and Gamma Ray
- Gamzey somewhat has two themes that fit him pretty well, but each has a section that fits him near perfectly. They are the songs The Drug In Me Is You by Falling In Reverse, and My Ordinary Life by The Living Tombstone. Time stamp for The Drug In Me Is You being 2:33 forward, and My Ordinary Life being 2:27 forward.
- Gamzey's voice claim is still undecided for now
