

Match these nine sentences to the pattern number.

- A. Sentences fall into four different categories; these categories are simple, compound, complex, and compound-complex.
- B. Sentence Patterns help students write with confidence.
- C. While conjunctions are often used to combine clauses, they can also be used to connect phrases.
- D. Pattern seven, which is interesting to write, has a dependent clause in the middle of an independent clause.
- E. Conjunctions can be used to connect clauses; thus, understanding the different types of conjunctions is important.
- F. The sentence pattern that contains a dependent clause is a complex sentence.
- G. Sentence pattern nine, which is a frequently written pattern, is difficult for students, so students should study its elements carefully.
- H. Sentence patterns use clauses to build a variety of sentence types, but phrases do not affect patterns.
- I. Students need to recognize the difference between phrases and clauses when they are punctuating sentences.

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.
- 5.
- 6.
- 7.
- 8.
- 9.