GENERATIVE AI WORKSHOPS

January 2026 Sessions via Zoom Events

Thursday, Jan 15; REPEATED Tuesday, Jan 20

8–11:30am NYC | 5–8:30pm Abu Dhabi | 9–12:30pm Shanghai

Session 1 | 8am NYC | 5pm Abu Dhabi | 8pm Shanghai

Getting Started with Generative AI (GenAI) at NYU [Slides] (60 min)

An intro to what GenAI is, the faculty & student use gap, NYU GenAI tools (Gemini, NotebookLM, Gems + More), prompting effectively, possibilities, risks, and pitfalls.

Session 2 | 9am NYC | 6pm Abu Dhabi | 9pm Shanghai

From Policing to Building Trust: Reframing Academic Integrity [Slides] (60 min)

Too often, academic integrity is framed around catching academic misconduct instead of cultivating trust, engagement, and learning. This workshop draws from Cheating Lessons by James Lang, The Opposite of Cheating by Tricia Bertram Gallant and David Rettinger, and the concept of "post-plagiarism" by Sarah Eaton to shift the conversation from policing students to partnering with them and building trust.

Session 3 | 10am NYC | 7pm Abu Dhabi | 10pm Shanghai

(Re)Designing Assignments and (Re)thinking Assessment for Learning in the Age of GenAI [Slides] (60 min)

Faculty will explore practical strategies for (re)designing assignments and (re)thinking assessment that make student thinking visible and promote learning.

Session 4 | 11am NYC | 8pm Abu Dhabi | 11pm Shanghai

Beyond The Syllabus: Adaptive Teaching in the Age of GenAI [Slides] (30 min)

Once a course is underway, faculty often encounter GenAI-related learning challenges or opportunities that require ongoing adjustment rather than fixed policies. This session examines strategies for responding to those moments in ways that support trust and transparency.
