

Ionian Conference | Amcar - Aetherian Pact

Troika Tower 29 of April 2022

In the modern times of conflict and strife, it becomes more apparent that like minded countries should come to each other's aid in times of need. With the official blockade of Damkoth and rampant piracy and terror attacks throughout Perseus, the closeby nations of Amcar and Aetheria have come to realise that a baseline of defense and non-agression is key for the advancement of our two nations.

This treaty shall go into effect on the First of May if signed by all parties.

This treaty shall be between the Amcaran Social Republic and the State of Aetheria.

Article the Second

The State of Aetheria, and the Amcaran Social Republic agree to refrain from any forms of hostility toward each other including granting letters of marque to attack each other's vessels or colonies, taking direct military action between one another, engaging in espionage against one another, or violating the territorial sovereignty of either nation.

In the event that the state of Aetheria, or the Amcaran Social Republic were to come under attack from a foreign power such as one of the ways mentioned above, each state is required by this treaty to respond with military action toward the agressing power as they are reasonably able in their power to do so, in the instance that the attack is an ally they are to attempt to bring negotiations between the two parties. However each side always has the obligation to accept refugees fleeing from either of the two countries.

The states shall maintain free and open borders between the two nations, however each government shall maintain its right to declare an area exclusionary from this, in the instance of government buildings, private properties, quarentine zones, and other examples of territories and structures a government may wish to declare off-limits.

Article the Third

Individuals caught violating the sovereignty or actively attacking a country in this treaty will be subject to prosecution by a joint court of the two nations. Those in violation of an exclusion zone may be delt with under the laws of the nation in which they have violated.

Individuals from both sides may willingly engage in combat training involving the use of weapons on each other as long as consent from both sides is explicitly stated and maintained throughout the exercise.

In the case that all or part of a state has violated some clause of the treaty the nation may seek the outward help of a neutral party/nation such as a UN committee. At the authorization of this process, a nation may then go on to seek reparations, leave the agreement, or in instances of direct territorial violations such as annexation, troop movements, and/or squatting of land. In cases of sudden breach of the treaty such as a full mobilization and invasion by one party, the defending power has all right to engage in retaliation and the aggressor will have officially thus forfeited the agreement.

We the members of the first conference summit declare that we have borne witness and confirmed the legitimacy of this document, a treaty between Amcar and Aetheria. Glory to Amcar, and Peace to Aetheria.