The Department of Management and Finance successfully organized Startopia: Ignite, Inspire, Innovate on March 1st, 2025. The event brought together students from Finance, Marketing, and HR across all academic years. It promoted interdisciplinary teamwork, real-world problem-solving, and innovative thinking. Startopia served as a platform to bridge academic theory and practical application through engaging activities and case studies. Students explored business challenges, worked collaboratively, and proposed strategic solutions, preparing them for future professional roles. The event fostered creativity, communication, and leadership, empowering participants to think critically and work cohesively in a dynamic business environment. It was a vibrant and impactful initiative.
