

Arc I Enemies and Bosses Database

This document comprises of replicas, data clones, NetMonsters and bosses that appear in this RP. Data clones are mostly related to some of the characters that appear in FVTO, but some appear as original versions of replicas... And they are MUCH stronger than usual. The terminology is simple for these.

Replicas are technically mirrored or synthetic clones of their original selves. They lack contrast and saturation in terms of their colour and they don't have names, except for their codenames. They are 6000% stronger than their original selves, but can be tamed provided that the rites are performed in order to do so. We won't tell you what has to be performed, you'll have to figure out how yourselves. They are separated into different categories, so read them through carefully. In the Hall of Fame and Inward Destruction, their HP will be displayed and are effective for those locations only. Inward Destruction characters are 4x the strength of the ones in the Hall of Fame.

A strange phenomenon has occurred. A group of viruses have entered this place and are grabbing hold of replicas when they do. Node NetMonsters are the end result of when these silver box-like viruses known as Data Nodes from the NetMonster reality, capture a replica and strip them of all forms of identity, instead turning them into one of seven different colored forms. The Data Nodes themselves do not attack, and each one can only keep with it one Node NetMonster at a time. They are 7500% stronger than what they should be and it is unknown what happens when a Data Node captures a Data, Silhouette or Boss and no one wants to find out.

Data Clones are computer-generated clones and they look completely identical to their original selves. Clones like Node NetMonsters are 7500% stronger, but the only difference is that datas can be manipulated so that they can use different movesets, being able to overwrite themselves in the process whilst NetMonsters cannot. The more prominent clones such as original versions of replicas are not allowed to multiply themselves but they can also team up with a character capable enough to work with a data in question.

Note: Data Clones are NOT the same as replicas.

Bosses are the toughest set of enemies you will have to face. They are given a 10000% boost and some even resemble the original characters whose replicas are roaming around camp. Some may end up easier than others, but their Difficulty capacity may say... Otherwise.

Silhouettes are beings who are already dead but cannot rest in peace. They, like bosses are given a 10000% boost and are original beings. They are neither replicas nor datas. We, in general would call them 'Absent Silhouettes', but to make things easier, just Silhouettes would suffice. Although their difficulties may end up as 13/14/15, in reality they're just the same as they always were. This is only applied to characters who has died on or before 2060.

Please check back at the Replicas, NetMonsters, Datas, Bosses and Silhouettes sections for their resistances and immunities, it's important you know these.

0-100% means they're vulnerable to a particular element, whether it's physical or magical and anything more than 100% means they're resistant to them. The maximum resistance they can attain is 500% and even Attacks and Magic have resistances, so please check those. There are also ABS and IMM symbols. ABS is the term where the enemy is attacked but the damage is reversed allowing them to heal instead. IMM just means you do jack shit to the enemy regardless of your efforts.

Replicas

The most common enemy in this camp ground. Never be deceived by their lame difficulty level.

Security Node NetMonsters

The end results of what the viruses that invade the world of true desolation have done to various replicas. Although the Data Nodes that make them look like silver boxes covered with various circuit boards, they are never to be underestimated or the creatures they release to defend themselves with. So far, it is currently impossible to destroy a Data Node once it raises its shields, but each Data Node only carries with it one Security Node NetMonster at a time.

* = This enemy already have a character in this RP.

 = Artemis' true form is immune to Physical and Magical attacks, so therefore you cannot damage it unless you bring it to a stagger. Once staggered, both resistances will change to 75% and from there, they will decrease by 5% as you attack it. When the Rebirth skill is used, it will once again be immune to Physical and Magic.

² = This data has various Earth Resistances. If an Earth ability used is plant-based, it is doubled. Otherwise, if an Earth ability used is ground based, it is halved.

³ = L'Oscurita dell'Ignoto is translated from Italian as 'Darkness of the Unknown'

⁴ = Ichiban no Takaramono is the original title of the song. To be precise, both titles are technically the same. It's just translated from Japanese to English.

⁵ = As the Demon Hybrid is immune to both Light and Dark elements, they change from time to time according to its skin colour. If the skin colour is bright, then it will be immune to Light. If the skin colour is dark, then it will be immune to Dark. Wherever the Demon Hybrid isn't immune, the resistance will stay at 100%.

⁶ = The Apocalyptic Ninja, Paranoid Jester or Immoral Butler's resistances/immunities/damages reversed to elements vary according to the weapon it copies. Humanoid/Monster/All weapons respectively will be affected.

Enemy Speeds

This term will help characters devise strategies against enemies and bosses and would also help them predict how they are gonna take each replica on, especially if it's one of their own. It is unpredictable how fast replicas or bosses will be and the speed will change from time to time. In short, be prepared for the absolute worst.

The speed meter is as follows:

Extremely Quick

Very Quick

Quick

Very Fast

Fast

Average

Slow

Very Slow

Lethargic

Very Lethargic

Extremely Lethargic

The ones in colour are for bosses only. They can be slower than most replicas or faster. Extremely Quick/Lethargic are also boss-exclusive so replicas have no opportunity to upgrade their speed to such extremes.
