

LG107 Spec Doc

Welcome to the Cognitive Realm! Whether you're a passing traveler or a recently deceased person, this is where you have ended up. Stuck in the vast blackness of Shadesmar. Try not to fall into the endless mist. It's not good for your health.

Pre-Game

Figured I may as well get everything set up early. I've got my distribution already made up, and I've even planned ahead for various playercounts. All the way up to 20! I doubt I'll hit nearly that many (expecting around 10-12 probably), but it would be cool if I did. I think people will like this distro. I'm trying something new this time.

Day One

And so it begins.

Okay, yeah, I feel justified in not pre-writing the writeup. There's a little over 30 minutes left and we're at a four-way tie lmao. Anything could happen.

Striker, Kidpen, Aeoryi, Doc12, TJ

Oops, three-way tie actually. Either way, my point stands.

Night One

Well that was a wild end to Day One. Welcome to the land of the dead, Kidpen! Sorry that you died on your first game back in ages.

That's okay, such is life. I think this happened last game I played too but I'll need to double check.

Okay in my last two games before this one I was elim killed at the first opportunity. Pretty ridiculous streak I'm building here. As I mentioned to Doc, I'm not particularly good at this game, which apparently manifests as me seemingly extremely killable to everyone in the game regardless of faction. I'm gonna talk to Bip about Hades now.

I'm sorry about that bro. It's alright, we all get weird streaks sometimes. Mine was getting exed early on in the game (like C1/2) for like a dozen games in a row lmao

Day Two

Welcome to the land of the dead, Aeoryi!

Amazing soothing job by me, apparently Twinstorm claimed that Doc claimed they had vote manipulation which is spicy
(I did soothe my own vote)

I was wondering if you would confirm that here or leave people to keep guessing.

And yes, all this claiming stuff is very interesting. There's so much of it going on in the PMs. Literally so much. What happened to PM safety??? Lmao

Self soothing mind-tricks I'm still confused what the point of that was lmao

I was plotting to claim Rioter if votes moved

Inch resting.

Night Two

Welcome to the land of the dead, TOW!

Mmmmm there's some interesting things happening in PMs. Depending on how actions play out, tomorrow could be spicy.

Day Three

Welcome to the land of the dead, Doc! Sorry you had to die so early.

Striker, Kidpen, Aeoryi, Doc12, TJ

This turn didn't turn out as spicy as I was hoping, but it should still be fun to see what happens now.

Ah well. Did my best. Annoyed I didn't actually learn anything useful.

You were actually doing really well. You would've learned another very neat piece of information if you hadn't died. Do you want me to tell you what it was?

Was TJ an elim? :P

Well what I actually want to know is the person who killed me so I can revenge myself upon them some other point. I usually only answer one question per dead player in spec docs, so you'll have to wait and see for this one :P Fair :P

Damn I wish he trusted me more XD I completely understood why he was so suspicious. I was fishing a lot without revealing anything.

It was funny watching all of your fishing PMs

I am an extremely chatty player :P Always have been. Nothing wrong with that :P

I had been thinking about just getting Araris to announce publicly he was the Seeker last night but he was planning to do it the next day, oh well :P

Ah yeah, unfortunate.

I had fun. It's been a very long time since I played, and I enjoyed getting into the thick of it. I liked having a role but it was a very stressful role.

I hope it was a fun kind of stress at least? But I'm glad you had fun! My hope this game was just to make sure as many people as possible had fun.

Obviously I don't know what the Elim reasoning was for killing me, I just hope it wasn't because I was so active lol. A familiar frustration that comes with the game sometimes is that the best strategy as Elim is really to stay silent and kill the loud voices.

That is definitely a strategy

Self soothing is still the mystery of the ages Yeah, I don't think that's something I've seen happen in all my time on SE, so I think that's something they can't even conceive of lmao
Welcome Doc

So what actually set you off about World hopper Aeoryi? :p

This is a very interesting EoD....

It's interesting how aside from day 1 the votes have been so one sided. Elims just sitting back and watching us kill each other 😏

Striker, Kidpen, Aeoryi, Doc12, TJ

Maytentially

Oh well. I could have changed so much if I survived today 😊

Night Three

Oh well, no longer my headache.

I think my final guess for the team is KSauce, TwinStorm and...Biulet I think.

TwinStorm claimed Tineye and was able to back it up with the anonymous message, though ofc doesn't mean they're not elim

Do you have a question for me, TJ? I'd only reveal one alignment, obviously.

Mind if I keep it for later? I wanna solve on my own for a while. Yeah that's fine!

I realised I messed up my final reads smhhh Rip

Heya. I actually scanned you the night I died lol.

Hello Doc, debated protecting you on N2 but N2 was essentially on my birthday and I did not want to overthink on the target and just ended up protecting myself >>

The problem was Seeker was such an important role I couldn't risk revealing it to any potential elim so. I just ended up looking very shift in all my PMs

But I think that's why I began trusting you. Because elims are usually not that directly inquisitive.

It was definitely fun watching you in the PMs. Sorry you didn't live very long :P

Unfortunately Mara didn't live long enough but she was gonna try to kill Yomen after the game. She's not evil she just thinks Nobles are evil and they killed her only friend 😊

That would have been fun to see :P

Anything fun going on in PMs now?

No, it's been pretty quiet in the PMs

↓ Lol
