

Privacy Policy

TOV KHOD provides the mobile application Dream Drop free of charge and distributes it on an “as available” and “as is” basis. This Privacy Policy outlines how information may be gathered, processed, stored, and protected when you install, access, or use the application. By continuing to use Dream Drop, you acknowledge that you have reviewed and accepted the practices described in this Policy.

Any information obtained through the application is used exclusively to operate, maintain, optimize, and support the Service. We do not trade, rent, or disclose personal information to third parties except where such disclosure is described in this Privacy Policy. Terms not specifically defined herein shall carry the same meaning as provided in the Terms and Conditions associated with the Dream Drop application.

Information We Collect and How It Is Used

To provide core functionality and improve the overall user experience, Dream Drop may request access to certain personally identifiable information. Any information collected is securely retained and managed in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

The application may also integrate third-party tools or services that independently collect and process information. These may include, among others:

- Google Play Services

Technical and Log Information

In the event of an application malfunction or technical issue, diagnostic information may be automatically collected through third-party analytics or monitoring tools. Such information can include your device IP address, device model, operating system version, application configuration, timestamps of usage, and other technical statistics.

This information is used solely for troubleshooting, performance optimization, error analysis, and maintaining reliable operation of the Service.

Cookies and Related Technologies

Dream Drop itself does not directly implement cookies. Nevertheless, certain integrated third-party services may use cookies or comparable tracking technologies for analytical, security, or functional purposes.

You may manage or disable these technologies through your browser or device settings. Please note that restricting such technologies could impact specific features or reduce application functionality.

Third-Party Providers

We may cooperate with external companies or individuals in order to support, improve, or maintain the Service. Such third-party providers may:

- Facilitate operation of the application
- Deliver services on our behalf
- Provide technical or customer support
- Monitor system stability and analyze usage patterns

These parties receive access only to information necessary for performing their designated functions and are contractually obligated to protect confidentiality and refrain from using the data for unrelated purposes.

Security of Information

We apply reasonable administrative, technical, and organizational safeguards to help protect personal information from unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, or destruction. However, no electronic transmission method or storage system can guarantee absolute security.

External Links

The application may contain links to external websites or third-party services that are not operated by us. If you choose to visit such resources, you do so voluntarily and at your own risk. We bear no responsibility for the content, practices, or privacy policies of external services and encourage users to review their policies independently.

Children's Privacy

Dream Drop is not intended for individuals under the age of 13. We do not knowingly collect personal information from children. If we become aware that data belonging to a child has been submitted, such information will be removed without undue delay. Parents or legal guardians who believe their child has provided personal information may contact us so appropriate action can be taken.

Updates to This Policy

This Privacy Policy may be revised periodically. Any modifications will be posted within this section. Continued use of the application after changes become effective signifies your acceptance of the updated Policy. All revisions take effect immediately upon publication unless otherwise stated.

Effective Date: May 11, 2026
