

Relative Clauses. Practice 2.

A. Join the following sentences into Defining Relative Clauses. The antecedent is underlined.

1. What is the solution to the problem? You found it.

What is the solution you found to the problem?

2. The pie was dry and burnt. Sally cooked it for the contest.

The pie Sally cooked for the contest was dry and burnt.

3, The contest was part of Saint Valentine's celebrations. It was held in the hotel.

The contest which/that was held in the hotel was part of SV...

4. Frank cannot remember the number of the box. He put his son's toys there.

Frank cannot remember the number of the box where he put his son's toys.

5. The book was written by a teenager. You are enjoying it a lot.

The book you are enjoying a lot was written by a teenager.

6. The book was written by a teenager. He spent only two months to complete it.

The book was written by a teenager who spent only two months to complete it.

7. I will explain you the reason. Relative Clauses are important for this reason.

I will explain you the reason why Relat. Clauses are important.

8. Grammar points should be studied in depth. Most students can't understand them.

Grammar points most students can't understand should be studied in depth.

9. My grandpa was born that year. The Second World War started then.

My grandpa was born that year when the WWII started.

10. The blue-eyed student passed the test. She was practicing speaking skills with Tom.

The blue-eyed student who was practicing speaking skills with Tom passed the test.

11. The habitats must be preserved. Endangered species live there.

The habitats where endangered species live must be preserved.

12. The college is considered one of the best in Great Britain. Its students become important politicians and economists.

The college whose students become... is considered one of best...

13. The doctor had been working for hours at the emergency room. His patients felt grateful.

The doctor whose patients felt grateful had been.....

14. The doctor had been working for hours at the emergency room. It is in the basement.

The doctor had been working for hours at the emergency room that / which is in the basement.

B. Join the following sentences into Defining Relative Clauses.

1. I met this young man in Main Street. He was waiting at the bus-stop.

I met this young man who was waiting at the bus stop in MS

2. I met this young man in Main Street. I had seen him many times before.

I met this young man I had seen many times before in MS

3. I met this young man in the street. It is the longer avenue in town.

I met this young man in the street which / that is the longer avenue in town.

4. I met this young man in the street. A film director shot there in 2012.

I met this young man in the street where a film director shot in 2012.

5. An artist made graffiti on the bridge. He was campaigning for research to cure breast cancer.

An artist who was campaigning for research to cure... made graffiti on the bridge.

6. An artist made graffiti on the bridge. Most citizens cross it on foot.

An artist made graffiti on the bridge most citizens cross on foot.

7. An artist made graffiti on the bridge. His wife had suffered breast cancer years ago.

An artist whose wife had suffered breast cancer years ago made

8. The documentary was shown at the weekend. Its viewer records were the highest in the channel.

The documentary whose viewer records were the highest in the channel was shown ...

9. The documentary was shown at the weekend. Thirty-three years ago, there was an attempted coup d'état in Spain on that same date.

The documentary was shown at the weekend when 33 years ago, there was an attempted coup d'état in Spain.

10. Some journalists have criticized this documentary. Most of them are right-wing.

Some journalists who are right-wing have criticized this documentary.

11. The documentary was a fake. It was shown in prime-time.

The documentary that was shown in prime-time was a fake.

12. The attempted coup d'état happened in 1981. There was a deep crisis in the Spanish democracy that year.

The attempted coup d'état happened in 1981 when there was a deep crisis in the Spanish democracy.