

Educator Guide: What Does it Mean to be Anti-Racist?

Lesson plan (with Classroom Viewing Guide)

This guide is designed to support your students with these learning objectives:

- 1) Students will be able to analyze information about anti-racism
- 2) Students will write arguments and present research
- 3) Students will be able to create an infographic depicting ways people can combat racism.

KQED's Media Tool Policy: In KQED Education's media literacy work, we take an approach to platforms and tools that focuses on developing media-making competencies that are transferable to an individual's specific technology context. When we recommend software for specific mediamaking activities, our factors for consideration include ease of use, whether the tool is open-source, whether it works across platforms and whether it offers the necessary functionality for the task free of cost. If there are no free tools appropriate for the task, we prioritize the lowest-cost solution able to produce high-quality media.
