

This is a report of Cici and I's 4 month-ish relationship from my side and how it impacted me. She has me blocked everywhere and probably goes by another name online to avoid or stalk me. I know she has a thing with looking up exes.

I will be adding screenshots to this report if evidence is needed.

I would like to make people wary of Cici if wanting a relationship with her, I don't want them going through what I had and others before me.

The Flirting

Cici always got angry and jealous if anyone was a little too nice/friendly to me via my artwork. I have no problem with people crushing on me but I won't act on it, especially if I'm in a relationship.

However for Cici, she loved it when people fell to their knees and begged her for "booby" photos or even dirty talk.

Yes, this was all in front of me.

Of course I got jealous but for a good reason in my opinion, but I never stopped her or those.

Yet when I did, she never spoke up or backed me up about me being her partner, she only allowed the flirter to insult and belittle me in her own server. (Which I got banned from).

These flirting episodes happened everywhere she was allowed to make posts.

So, Discord, Twitter, Facebook and so on.

I couldn't stop her apart from addressing my worries and jealousy.

She would only guilt trip me into believing I didn't trust her and felt she would cheat. (only later I found out I was the one she was cheating with)

The Calls

Calling on VC (voice chat) was always 50/50.

It was either a very nice, sweet time, her with her baby or her screaming to the point of wheezing at her partner (who I thought was an ex) with the baby sitting right there watching.

I sadly have no evidence of these VC calls though many times I felt like recording them if anything goes bad.

I found it even more scary when if I left the call because she was fighting her "ex" she'd get very pissy with me for leaving her.

I should have been bluntly honest to why I couldn't stand shouting but she obviously didn't care about her drama being public to me and in front of her barely 2 year old son.

Money

Cici owes me a lot of money.

However I'm generous and only was requesting 290 USD back out of the thousands I had borrowed her in our 4 month-ish relationship.

By the end of the relationship I had a sour taste with giving her money like I did before, however I was always told how she was starving or living with rats and mice who stole her bed.

It got to the point of guilt tripping that she convinced me to bend and give her 350 USD+ for a PS4 that she claimed didn't work (which she showed ZERO evidence of) and made me feel like I had to pay the fixing fee. (Again no evidence of her going to this store or even a receipt of these fixes done.)

She also claimed to be playing on a "local" friend's PS4 while hers sat in a store being fixed. She told me she had no local friends in the past.. But I trusted her.

She had me very wrapped around her finger and I was scared to ever talk back or I'd be the "bad guy for making her look bad".

It wasn't until after the PS4 problem that I stopped giving money. Her reactions, her actions, her zero evidence and the fact we were ex's only made me wake up a lil to the real situation friends had been warning me of as of late.

Because I stopped the income Cici began getting more snappy, rude and guilt trippy with me. I was brave and kept to my ground of not giving her money and she didn't like that.

Cici also owes a plane ticket (1000+ USD) to a friend of mine who was sweet and generous to help me and Cici pay for travels when we wanted to meet last year.

But Cici never came though still having this ticket and only threatened me in voice calls about how she wasn't going to come because of her ex. Yet later she suddenly asked me if her ex could come on the trip with her..

You can imagine how I felt.

The side bitch

I was the side bitch.

I was the secret new boyfriend. I was the one led to believe her partner (who she said to me was her ex) beat, abused and hurt her in other ways to get me to feel bad for her. She used stories of rape and domestic abuse to me in VC calls to keep me in sorrow for her.

Once her partner knew I was the new boyfriend, he wasn't happy and expressed that a lot, but I was to believe he was an abusive ex fighting Cici for Kai (her baby).

So much happened and he never would listen to me if I tried to speak up about what I only knew as Cici was the one to lead me into a relationship.

The thought that I was the side bitch was the fact he told me he was once the new boyfriend of her past relationship. Cici was in a relationship with another artist, she told me they abused her emotionally everyday and she suddenly started dating her new partner (current boyfriend).

He told me they tried to date in private but when the other partner found out they panicked and asked for a poly relationship to keep together. But it didn't work.

Cici tried FOUR times (probably more) to force me into a poly relationship.

I told her I was mono, she said to me she was poly but going mono as she hated poly from past experience.

Every time I refused to date her "ex" (the boyfriend) I was guilt tripped, emotionally tortured and told she was going to kill herself over the "abuse" this "ex" was putting her through because of me.

We broke up every month for about 1-4 days.

Only getting back together from me more or less crying my eyes out or telling her all of this was giving me health problematic anxiety attacks on repeat.

However, on our last break up it was too much for me. I ended up needing a dose increase for my antidepressants because I couldn't bear the pain and wanted to be numbed.

It did work and also helped me let go of her faster.

The Mental health

Cici used it against me a lot over many things.

She claimed to be someone with Borderline Personality Disorder, eating disorders and so on.

If I ever tried to give her advice or help her with getting food when low I was either met with a "okay" or no thank you for the money for the "week's" worth of food she'd eat in a day or two.

She used her BPD to excuse her screaming at her ex on mic and snappiness at me if I ever had a different opinion from her.

If I ever told her she was hurting my emotions I was guilt tripped by her BPD, she'd convince me that I was always bad and needed to rethink if I didn't have the same views.

Cici also used her BPD to threaten suicide at me and have me spam her dm's for hours while she sat online not saying a thing.. Only to return after I exhausted myself with multiple anxiety attacks with a, "hi I fell asleep" or "Sorry I went out to meet whoever".

I was so blinded by her actions, I always happened to excuse her behavior because I was in love.

Her TH is the only form of online activity I know of her (But I can't see any of her page due to being blocked: MurrCatto)