

Hello,

My name is Gloria Nkoyo Ufot, I am eighteen years old, and I was born and raised in Greensboro, North Carolina, but all of my family are from Nigeria. I was born on September, 8 1998 and my zodiac sign is a virgo. I am an African American female, and I am a freshman undergraduate attending East Carolina University in Greenville, North Carolina. My major is Public Health Studies, with a concentration in Pre- Med. My future hobby is to be a pediatrician or an OB/GYN doctor. I am the youngest of three, I have 2 older brothers and I have 2 parents, a mother and a father. I have done several sports in the past, such as track & field, cross country, and cheerleading. I have several hobbies such as reading writing, and being involved in the clubs and organizations I'm in at my university.

Here are just a few facts about myself: My favorite food is french fries and anything chocolate. I honestly don't really have a favorite color, it just depends on my mood or what i happen to like that day. I love to listen to music, specifically 90's R&B and love songs in general. I'm not really a soda fanatic, I actually really love water. I love watching movies, and reality TV shows, and I'm a big cartoon fan. I'm a Christian, I'm really passionate in what I believe in and stand for. I am an outgoing, compassionate, open minded individual; I'm always willing to make new friends and make new memories.
