Hello, and welcome to Tiny Beautiful Things, produced by Phamaly Theatre Company. This play is a fictionalized adaptation of Cheryl Strayed's book about her work as an advice columnist. Since the production is primarily text-based, with very little movement, there will be minimal live audio description. We'll use it mainly to translate sentences in letters written in other languages, including American Sign Language. Each letter writer appears on video, and the videos begin right away. If you'd like a brief description of what each person is wearing, you can use this guide.
