Quote with page number	How this setting makes the reader feel
"The ground beneath them was a bank covered in coarse grass, torn everywhere by the upheavals of fallen trees, scattered with decaying coconuts and palm saplings. Behind this was the darkness of the forest proper and the open space of the scar." (p. 10)	The setting here reveals a mood of loneliness and desertion. It's clear that no civilizations inhabit the island or care for its vegetation. Words like scar, darkness, and decay create a gloomy, somber, and menacing mood.
"With that word the heat seemed to increase till it became a threatening weight and the lagoon attacked them with a blinding effulgence [brightness]." (p. 14)	This setting in this quote reveals...
"The tide was low and there was a strip of weed-strewn beach that was almost as firm as the road. A kind of glamour was spread over them and the scene and they were conscience of the glamour and made happy by it." (p. 25)	This setting in this quote reveals...
