

---

Human Resource Management

---

Function 4 – Performance Appraisal

This involves a formal system of regularly collecting, recording and sharing information between the employee and the appraiser about the employee's work performance and potential. Conducted in the correct manner, it can enhance motivation, contribute to achieving organisational goals and assist the process of rewarding good performance.