Code of Conduct Agreement

My student and I promise that my student will act with respect, kindness, responsibility, and obedience for the duration of the weekend. This will include the respect of other students and their property, respect for the facilities and its amenities. This will include general kindness to fellow students, leadership, staff, and others who are encountered at Keswick. This will include responsibility over students' time, using it to further their relationship with the Lord and others. This will include responsibility for your student's own possessions. Obedience will include a rigid adherence to the laws and safety regulations of Whiting, New Jersey as well as a rigid adherence to the rules and regulations of the retreat. Students are expected to attend every event, worship time, lesson time, and small group session. While there is some degree of freedom on this retreat, that freedom is a privilege which can be revoked. My student and I agree that, if any of the above expectations are failed, my student has given grounds to Pastor Dan to send the student home. As the guardian, I accept responsibility for coming and picking my student up if such a need should arise.
