

Very bread, good shepherd, tend us, Jesu, of thy love befriend us; thou refresh us, thou defend us, thine eternal goodness send us in the land of life to see. Thou who all things canst and knowest, who on earth such food bestowest, grant us with thy saints, though lowest, where the heavenly feast thou showest, fellow heirs and guests to be.