

Hi there Gigi

Get ready to open your mind wider than a yoga instructor's leg doing a difficult pose!
(Okay, maybe that's a stretch)

I wanted to mention your appearance on Daytimechicagotv and winning the $50000 grant with TikTok is truly commendable. It has given you a great opportunity to spread your message on financial literacy to a larger audience.

That is why I want to share the Curiosity Catalyst technique with you to help increase sign-ups for your investing course using your email subscribers. By using this technique, you can captivate your subscribers' interests and trigger their curiosity to join your "Investing for First Gen Wealth Builders" program.

By increasing their eagerness to learn more about your investment course, they are more likely to click on the email link that leads them to your website.

You may have questions about why I sent this and how it can be of use to you. That's why I have provided you with a ready-made example of how this technique can be implemented.

Feel free to have a look and let me know if you like it?
