

Black History Month WORKSHOPS, etc

It is a whole vibe . . .

Workshops. Games. Study Sessions. Homecoming. Artistry & Food.

WE LOST 100 MILLION IN THE MIDDLE PASSAGE AND YET BY SOME MIRACLE WE ARE HERE, LOVING AND STRUGGLING FOR A BETTER DAY.

Being Black in the Workspace -

- Date: Mon, Feb 5th
 - Facilitator: Dr. Sade Burrell - staff professional
 - Venue: I Bldg. conference Room
 - Time: 11:30a - 2:00p

Black Love and Relationships Mental Health Workshops ~Attachment Theory

- Date: Feb 12th
 - Facilitator: Ebony Pannell, Therapist
 - Venue: I Bldg. Conference Room
 - Time: 11:30 - 2:00p

Arriving From Ghana

"Arriving from Ghana" is not just a workshop; it's a celebration of the transformative power of travel. Pack your curiosity, and let's embark on this journey of discovery together!

- Date: Feb 20th
 - Facilitator: Dr. Sade Burrell - staff professional
 - Venue: I Bldg. Conference Room
 - Time: 1:00 - 2:00p

The Student Entrepreneur - a Black perspective

An exciting, thought-provoking workshop, where Professor Michael Van Keith unpacks three traits that are the impetus for the theory that African Americans are natural-born entrepreneurs.

1) Spirituality, 2) Intellectual Prowess and 3) Genetics

- Date: Feb 21st
 - Facilitator: Michael Van Keith - Prof of Business & Entrepreneurship
 - Venue: Career Center or I Bldg. conference Room ~ TBD
 - Time: 11:30 - 1:00p

Level Up

Headshots, hors d'oeuvres, and how to network

- Date: Feb 22nd
 - Facilitator(s): Lena Heckbert / Jonathan Ng
 - Venue: Career Center
 - Time: 12:30 - 3:00

The HBCU - Historically Black College/University

HBCUs were born at a time when Black students were barred from attending traditional colleges and universities due to segregation. Now, HBCUs offer a rich cultural history to their students. HBCUs not only offer students a quality education but also culture and history.

- Date: Feb 27th
 - Facilitator(s): Jonathan/Cuyamaca & Jason/Grossmont
 - Venue: I Bldg. conference Room
 - Time: 1:00 - 2:00