Introduction (Cambria font, size 12, bold, left alignment)

The introduction should cover three things: 1) the problem being studied; 2) the urgency of raising the problem being studied; and 3) the way the author discusses the problem. For this reason, the author needs to pay attention to the following points: First, the author describes the core of the problem to be discussed, the background, and the position of the author's article in the middle of related studies. In this case, the author can describe the relationship between the article and the articles or other works that have been published, conduct a brief review of the articles or works, and show the originality of the author's article. Second, the authors describe important aspects related to the problem being studied. In this case, the author can also mention the reasons and purposes for discussing the problem in the article in question. This section is intended to show the scholarly contribution of the author in the articles he writes-that the issues raised by the author are very important for publication.

Please make the page setting of your word processor to A4 format with the margins: bottom 3 cm and top 3 cm, left 3 cm and right 2.5 cm. For the body of the paper, please use Times New Roman 12, single spacing. Should always be written in with the fonts Times New Roman 12, especially also in the figures and tables. The length of article is 1000-2000 words including all pictures, tables, nomenclature, references, etc.
