

"They Don't Care About Us"

Date range assessed by the fact that “‘Stranger in Moscow’ was the first song Michael and Buxer worked on. “When Michael finally came out to New York and heard my work on ‘Stranger in Moscow’, the strings, piano, drums and the beatboxing samples that make up the rhythmic backbone of the track, he literally shrieked with joy,”... Over the course of the late spring and summer, Michael began working on more and more songs.” (Mike Smallcombe, “Making Michael”)
