Opening Comments

Instead of a long document like before, I summarized everything in a video. Cloud wrote out an outline that contains sources for the evidence I used in my video is posted down below.

Going over everything WATCH:

Script For The Video (slight differences):

Alright so, before we begin I'd like to say that this document isn't an attempt to expose or deplatformed. This is not an expose and both sides are in the clear wrong for actions that I'll get into. I'm not attempting to elicit hate towards Kilik or any members of the Bee Family and if you send unwarranted hate to either you are probably just seeking to fit into a bandwagon from either side.

And i'll start this off with a timeline of events.

May 19th -

Alright so things start off here, during May 19th 2021 when the Youtuber Purify is streaming GPO and MrBee hops into his chat trying to trade.

About 51 minutes and forty-nine seconds into the video roblox youtuber Sensei Maui (who now goes by Captain Maui) pops in and says:

"@MrBee your sister be looking slapping"

"@MrBee you got 500k subs, you play fortnite my dude"

Maui then proceeds to ask if he's playing roblox.

MrBee jokingly responds:

"Bro this guy did not come to play around"

Purify and Maui then talk to each other and around this time you can see that MrBee gets modded in his chat by Purify. This is something that will come into play a little bit later.

MrBee and Maui continue to have a back and forth and its clearly very playful as they're challenging each other to ingame fights

About 1 hour and 41 seconds into the stream Kilik a good friend of Maui, who went by Sensei Kilik at the time of this livestream, says and I quote:

"Gabriela Bee was on my sacks"

"big sacks Gabriela Bee"

And before you say "Oh this was so disgusting, why would Kilik bring up his sister" i'd like to point out that

Yes, although what he said was very immature and inappropriate, Maui had just made similar comments, to which MrBee did not have any genuine issue or even respond to and he just continued to talk with Maui.

If he had felt that Kilik crossed any lines he could have told either Kilik or Maui that his sister shouldn't be brought up. I'm not saying it justifies what was said, my point is that during this interaction they are both 16 years old and having the type of interaction you'd see any teenage boys at school have when hanging around a group of kids.

I mean, say what you want to say but I'm sure MrBee and the vast majority of teenage boys have talked like this before or at least witnessed it happen and didn't take it to heart.

Now getting back into the timeline, MrBee never replied to Kilik. At least not directly, as Kilik was immediately muted in chat and although we cannot make a direct confirmation it's safe to assume that this was done by MrBee who then continued to talk with Maui.

A few moments later they all make a groupchat where the moment that was referenced in the 2nd Bee video comes from.

After these comments are made they add MrBee to the gc so they can chill. Maui then clarifies that the reason he started trash talk with MrBee is that he saw that he was a verified creator such as himself and just wanted to mess around.

Kilik then reiterates what he says and laughs about it saying that he was "just playing" and did not actually mean the comments.

MrBee, still in the chat, says that he's still there and continues interaction with the group and they seem to be having more positive energy now, with them joking about fighting in a lowly regarded roblox game called "Blox Fruits".

And when they invite him to the voice chat they ask Kilik if he'll be cool about it, to which he responds that he won't continue joking around with him.

I feel like you can tell there are no real negative feelings harbored by anyone in the stream at this point and they're all just hanging out. They go on to talk about MrBee delving into Roblox.

Something he responds to positively and now MrBee's content is a mix of mostly Fortnite content with some Roblox.

I feel like you guys can start to understand with this information how people in the gaming community act towards each other, especially younger people. They started off dissing each other and being disrespectful but it led to them conversing and having fun with each other. This type of interaction honestly goes beyond just the internet gaming sphere or online interactions in general and happens all the time in real life.

Now we'll get into more recent events.

January ??? -

Flash forward 8 months, Kilik goes from Sensei Kilik to just Kilik, MrBee has delved into the roblox sphere, and they both play the very popular and newly released game Deepwoken.

and there is now some tension between Kilik and MrBee. According to Kilik it happened January 8th when they got into a vc and started flaming each other. There's no way to confirm this claim and MrBee has never spoken about this interaction but neither of them really brought up a lot of information about the situation in the first place so it's safe to assume that early January there was some sort of conflict between the two.

January 14th

Alright so at this point we get into one of the first escalations of the whole situation.

During one of his Deepwoken streams Kilik is attacked and killed by two individuals who spam “MrBee on top” and a handful of other comments of that nature.

A few seconds later you can see his chat is getting raided directly by MrBee and a small group of others. And even though the messages are deleted because they got banned from the stream, the streamlabs bot logged their names.

So at this point MrBee coordinated what's called a streamsnipe then hate raided his chat. This prompts Kilik to end his stream out of frustration only 20 minutes into it.

January 26th

Over a week later and once again MrBee comes, now with a larger group of people. To streamsnipe and attack harass him while he's streaming. Unfortunately I could not find the raw video of this, even just the clip of this happening was removed by Youtube. The only thing I have left is from Kilik's initial response video and the screenshot I took for my first document.

Kilik then goes into the whole spiel about MrBee's sister

And posts “all jokes aside it was a fun stream very entertaining i loved it we all know im a troll but ye shout out to my editor new vids and fye stuff comign soon”

Let me be clear, none of the stuff he said or wrote was okay and it's sadly just very commonplace talk. I'm not here to defend it, Kilik has said he was wrong for saying it, and essentially every person who has talked about the matter has pointed out that it wasn't something he should have said.

Kilik probably didn't think much of it and later that night he was in a groupchat with Purify, the streamer who's stream MrBee and Kilik first interacted on. Purify, Kilik, and another person talk in a voice chat and they attempt to add MrBee to it multiple times in the next 3 hours to talk over their situation. He promptly leaves each time.

At this point in time it is not clear if MrBee had already went to his parents to make the video or not.

January 27th

As we all know the Bee Family made a video on Kilik, something that i'm sure the majority of you have watched and I do not feel the need to go over it when multiple other content creators and Kilik himself already have. But i'd like to reiterate that they called him a 19 year old, a pedophile, and a predator.

My take

This situation is honestly very unnecessary and the harassment that Kilik has received is just honestly terrible. Yes the things he said about Gabriela were awful but she has had cameras put in her face since she was 7. As a creator with millions of followers I don't think you can pretend like she hasn't seen disgusting behavior that is directly on her page. The same goes with her brother MrBee. I genuinely feel bad that they have had to live such public lives and I'm not even sure if MrBee ever wanted it to escalate to this point.

Something I want to bring up is that Mama and Papa Bee tried to entirely deplatform and send hate his way. You can't make the argument that “well they can't control their fanbase” because, well, they didn't even try. They even said if he tried moving to a different platform they would not allow him and said they had quote, “10 million fans” waiting for him on Facebook. If they weren't trying to send a targeted harassment and hate campaign his way why would they say something like this. Furthermore I'm very confused on where they got 19 as his age. Not knowing his age is one thing but completely making up a number seems ridiculous. The only two things I can imagine is that they were either told false information by their son or they made it up to really heavily ring in their case. Them taking advantage and even weaponizing parasocial relationships and using discrete and partially manipulative language seems to be just a sign of blatant ignorance or just pompously touting malice towards others.

How can you say you forgive someone then turn around and say you will follow them across platforms to make sure they will get targeted there too. Not only that but trying to take advantage of Youtube's systems to get him removed and talking about how good of a relationship and how much money you bring to Youtube seems like you're trying to pressure the platform itself into giving you special attention and removing him.

Although Kilik doesn't show it, this situation has clearly deeply negatively affected his mental health. While reading my original document you could hear the relief in his voice that someone had pointed out both sides of the situation and cleared up misinformation. Hearing him talk about the death threats starting to get to him beforehand is just genuinely sad to see. I recently turned 18 but hearing him say how something that I wrote helped him deal with very serious suicidal thoughts from intense cyberbullying made my whole month.

You can say that Kilik did the same thing to the Bee Family children but i'd like to point out that Mr Bee was totally fine with this type of language 8 months ago and his response 3 weeks ago was to just stream snipe and hate raid Kilik.

Kilik's stream had maybe 50 people total so i'm not sure how it's even possible that Gabriela was tuned in or saw what he said.

If Gabriela was or is going through genuine mental anguish over this situation then I'd say the parents are responsible for not only bringing this to her attention but having a camera in her face and deciding that their child crying on camera from apparent deep emotional trauma was something that the world should see.

I'll go into a smaller tangent because there are a few other topics to bring up.

There was a video titled "Dad Reacts to My SECRET CAMERA ROLL!!"

Which featured Gabriela and Papa Bee, the first thing you'll notice is that in the original video thumbnail there was what seemed to be a blurred sexual innuendo.

After the release of my document and the attention it got they privated the video, which got even more reactions from people. They then unprivated the video and later changed it to an uncensored version which was some sort of a duck banana amalgam.

I feel like the point still stands that it was an attempt to clickbait potential sexual content on their 13 year old daughters phone and everyone who saw the thumbnail thought it was a sexual image.

I will give them credit for taking the time to unblur it instead of deflecting and want to point out that obviously it's not equally as bad as what Kilik said but if the argument is "sexualization of anyone ever is always bad" you should also have criticized them for that.

Legality

My original document went over the legality of the situation and I'm definitely not going to reiterate this point as I think there are no circumstances where this needs to go to court. People started talking about Kilik suing them and taking them to court and this is such a dangerous idea that I don't want it touted any further.

Deepwoken

Immediately following the video Kilik was banned for "Pedophilia", the reasoning as then edited to be "Very bad things". And afterwards there were rumors about them being paid off to ban him from the game. These rumors will obviously never be confirmed because it's against the Roblox TOS but there are some reasons to doubt this. Deepwoken hours within its launch made around 35k usd off of people just buying access to the game with robux. I won't get into the specifics but they make so much money that I'm not sure they'd take a $2000 bribe to ban someone. I feel like the moderation team just made a very fast decision in hopes to look good and avoid controversy over having Kilik on the server.

Bee Family Racism.

This is probably one of the biggest arguments being made against the Bee Family, one in reference to the parents themselves and another in reference to MrBee.

I'll say that I don't think they hate black people but things they say in the video such as bringing up his upbringing and male influences to me has many racist undertones. Especially when they later bring up that they are Latino, if they aren't racist they shouldn't need to bring up their ethnic background as a defense because being Latino doesn't exclude you from being racist. There's no real methodical way of explaining how I feel about this and if you don't get it there's no way of making you understand.

Another thing was their son has allegations of racism on other platforms, with multiple screenshots of him saying the n word popping up. I wouldn't be surprised if he has said the n word but none of the posts have any strong evidence behind them being real and hardest to fake would still be unbelievably easy to fake. A post on the Bee Family's twitter called out these allegations but after getting ratio'd with another image it was subsequently deleted. Another thing to mention MrBee's discord account has gotten hacked and the dm's of him sending people the n word are probably not from him.

Conclusion

I hope you all feel more informed on the situation and please don't go to either side to harass or send death threats. Making sexual comments about Gabriela or saying what Kilik said was right is absolutely not a form of defending him and sending death threats or racist messages to Kilik is just genuinely deplorable behavior.

Thanks to Cloud for helping me out with this new document and I really appreciate all the positivity on my end.

If you have any questions or need me for anything you can reach me at my discord Eshryo#5085, i'd really like to talk to Bee Family or Kilik to talk about the situation and what to do moving forward.

That's about it, peace.
