Brilliant Recommendations!

This month, Mr. Dorner has some ideas on potential things to do with your free time in London.

The London Eye

A giant Ferris wheel with epic 360-degree views of landmarks like Big Ben and Buckingham Palace. Perfect for Insta-worthy pics, especially at sunset.

Shoreditch & Brick Lane

A trendy area with Banksy-style street art, vintage stores, and incredible street food. Brick Lane's famous 24-hour bagels are a must-try!

Westminster & Big Ben

See London's most famous clock, the Houses of Parliament, and Westminster Abbey. Walk across Westminster Bridge for the best views.

Shakespeare's Globe Theatre

Watch a play in this replica of Shakespeare's original open-air theater. A must-visit for literature or drama lovers.

Hyde Park & Kensington Gardens

Rent a paddleboat, have a picnic, or visit Kensington Palace. The Diana Memorial Playground is great for Peter Pan fans.

The Natural History Museum

See a giant blue whale skeleton, dinosaur fossils, and an earthquake simulator. The stunning building feels like a Harry Potter set—and it's free!

British Museum

Home to the Rosetta Stone, Egyptian mummies, and treasures from around the world. One of London's best (and free) museums.

Notting Hill & Portobello Road Market

Wander through colorful streets, browse antique shops, and visit the famous market for vintage finds and delicious street food.

Tate Modern

A must-visit for contemporary art lovers, housed in a former power station. The viewing platform offers stunning city views. Free entry!
