

Subject: The skincare wonder woman

Hello

I came across your website while doing some research in the field

And I'm impressed with what I have learned about your brand

A brand that does really what they say

Just the idea of taking care of sensitive skin people is really hard and does need a lot of work on it

But putting the environment on top of that is something incredible

The message of your brand is breathtaking

There are so much misleading and money-targeting brands

You are one of the savors of the sensitive skin

I'm an ethical digital marketer who is trying to spread the good into the world

I carefully choose who I work with

I want to contribute to doing good things for the people and especially for our beloved earth

I'll be waiting for a reply from your side to book a call to know each other more and how we can collaborate

Regards

Jhime
