SERVICE LEARNING & COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT HANDBOOK

TABLE OF CONTENTS

KEY DEFINITIONS, TERMINOLOGY & ACRONYMS

Service learning (SL) entails active student participation in intentional and collaborative service experiences that help promote long-term community development and civic engagement. Service Learning projects significantly relate to course content as well as enrich student education through the acquisition of professional skills in a practical (or applied) setting while also satisfying the needs of partner institutions. Through distinctive various pedagogical activities involving reflection, students enhance their sense of civic responsibility, self-awareness, and commitment to the community.

Community engagement (CE) describes collaboration between institutions of higher education and their larger communities (local, regional/state, national, global) for the mutually beneficial exchange of knowledge and resources in a context of partnership and reciprocity.

The Office of Academic Community Engagement (ACE), which is a part of Faculty Advancement and Student Success (FASS), supports all Service Learning (SL) and Community Engaged (CE) courses at SDSU. ACE provides opportunities for civic engagement and leadership development at SDSU for students, faculty, staff, and community members by supporting high-impact pedagogical practices and active course-based learning in partnership with a range of community organizations. These practices often involve innovations in teaching and learning.

The California State University (CSU) Center for Community Engagement (CCE) provides opportunities for students to become change-agents in their communities. Our goal is to educate students to understand the connections between themselves and those around them through high-quality community programs and service learning.

Service Learning Agreements (SLAs) are not just for service learning courses and projects, they apply to any time a student visits an on-campus or off-campus location as part of an SDSU sanctioned course or project so that the university can ensure that students are covered by the appropriate insurance.

Internship Site Questionnaire (ISQ) is a tool used by the faculty members or college department representative to assess an off-campus site where course or project related work will occur. Completing an ISQ is a required part of establishing an SLA.

SERVICE LEARNING & COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT HANDBOOK

SL/CE COURSE CERTIFICATION & DESIGNATION[1]

SDSU, in partnership with the Chancellor's Office (CO) Center for Community Engagement (CCE), supports the state-wide initiatives related to the California Call to Service. In an effort to better report on and support the community engaged work by faculty at SDSU, we ask all faculty to get their SL and CE courses certified.

1. Understand the definition of Service Learning (SL) and Community Engaged (CE) Courses.

2. Build out a course syllabus, as guided by the chart below.

Service Learning (SL) Course	Community Engaged (CE) Course
Justification that the SL or CE component is integral to and supportive of the academic focus of the course. In the syllabus, this can be communicated in the course description, in a separate description of the SL or CE component of the course, and/or in the learning outcomes.
Define and describe the definition of service learning. Course materials must reflect distinct pedagogic activities involving reflection, students enhance their sense of civic responsibility, self-awareness, and commitment to the community.	Define and describe the definition of community engaged learning.
Description of the mechanism(s)/learning activities used to introduce the SL or CE component to the students. This may be done through various methods (e.g., class discussions, guided readings, experiential class periods).
Describe the SL aspects of the course: • community partner(s) and location(s) where the SL assignment will be completed; • community partner needs and their relationship to the course learning outcomes; • expected professional skills and civic learning goals; • activities that will meet the service requirement; • length of time students will be required to serve (minimum of 15 hours during the semester, with 20 hours being optimal, regardless of the unit value of the course); • process for verification of service hours.	Describe the CE aspects of the course: • community or communities engaged, including geographic location, size, and demographics; • focus of engagement, for example, historical or contemporary issues of consequence to this community (e.g., climate change, health disparities, language revitalization, economic development, etc.); • outcomes that may contribute to the mutual benefit of the University and the communities engaged (e.g., civic learning around issues important to the well-being of the community, advancing research, fostering networks and relationships, building pipelines for co-curricular student activity like internships or service, etc.).
Description of the mechanisms and opportunities for ongoing student reflection on the integration of the SL or CE component with course content (e.g., class discussions, journals, papers, presentations).
Weighted grading standards demonstrating that the service-learning component accounts for a significant portion of the total course grade (minimum of 15%, with 20% or more being optimal).

3. Talk to the Office of Academic Community Engagement (optional). Meet with the ACE Office to discuss the course attribute process and your goals. Bring your sample syllabi.

4. Complete the Course Certification Process in the Community Engaged Learning Tool (CELT): For each SL or CE course, submit a CELT application. The CELT, an online tool hosted by the Chancellor's Office (CO), assesses the course's implementation of six essential elements of community engaged learning:

    a. Reciprocal Partnership: Reciprocal partnerships and processes shape the community activities and course design to enhance student understanding of the importance of community learning.
    b. Student Community Involvement Benefits the Common Good: Student community involvement has a specific benefit to the material, cultural or institutional interests that members of society have in common. This specific benefit to the common good is intentional, planned for, communicated and assessed with community partners in mind. This may include the organizational capacity, student/client growth, social and economic benefits, and more.
    c. Academically Relevant Community Involvement: Student community involvement is relevant to and integrated with the discipline-based academic content and assignments.
    d. Explicit Civic Learning Goals: Civic learning goals are articulated and develop students' capacities to understand and address critical social issues.
    e. Critical Reflection Facilitating Learning: Critical reflection activities and assignments integrate classroom and community learning.
    f. Integrated Assessment of Student Learning: Student learning assessment addresses both the discipline-based and civic learning goals; including learning from community involvement.

    The CO will send a determination email to you, copied to ACE, with a preliminary designation of SL or CE for your course. Please note: CELT certification must be renewed every five years, or when there is a significant course revision.

5. Apply for the SDSU General Catalog Course Designation in Curriculog (optional):

    You will be asked to submit a PDF of your CELT email certification from the Chancellor's Office as part of your form submission. For existing courses, complete a Minor Modification Form (MMF) in Curriculog to add your designation to an existing course.

For new courses, submit a new course proposal through Curriculog, noting the request for SL or CE designation. Curriculog proposals should be submitted before the annual deadline, which typically falls in October

ESTABLISHING A COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIP: RISK MANAGEMENT OVERVIEW

The university provides general and professional liability insurance coverage, as applicable, for service learning and internship placements provided there is a written agreement in place between the university and the host organization. For additional information regarding insurance coverage under the SAFECLIP and SPLIP programs see University Insurance Programs. Professional Liability coverage may also be provided for international service learning experiences, subject to insurance underwriter review.

Faculty members working with campus partners, and connecting students to this work, must complete the risk management and legal compliance steps required. ACE recommends faculty learn the terms and processes related to risk management, and then follow the checklist below to determine which, if any, of the steps are mandated for their respective projects.
BFA Website: https://procuretopay.sdsu.edu/supplemental-services/sla
ACE Website: https://servicelearning.sdsu.edu/partners

1. Is this project connected with a class or for-credit internship?

YES ↓ NO → STOP. Follow the SDSU policies on field trips.

2. Is there an SLA in place already? Check this list.

YES ↓ NO → Complete an ISQ + SLA and provide them to your department.

3. Is the SLA current? Check the end date in column E; if there is no date in column E, the SLA does not have an expiration date and can be considered current.

YES NO → Complete an ISQ and SLA and provide it to your department. The department will review/sign the documents, which should then be sent to Procure-to-Pay.

4. Is the SLA with another department on campus?

YES NO → If there is already an SLA on file that covers your department, you may proceed with the course or project at the off-campus location once each student has completed a liability waiver.

5. Email Procure-to-Pay (BFA) to consult with the staff and follow their instructions to amend the existing SLA to include your department/project. This may include completing a new ISQ.

If at any point in the flowchart, an SLA or ISQ was required, you must complete these documents, and wait for notice of approval. Your documents will be reviewed by the department, college, and Contract & Procurement Management. Students should not be sent to a learning activity site to participate in a service learning, internship or community engaged course site until an SLA is fully executed with a final signature by Procure-to-Pay (BFA) and each student has completed a liability waiver.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS (FAQs): RISK MANAGEMENT

- What if I need to amend an SLA?: Contact Procure-to-Pay (BFA) for assistance (cpm.sla@sdsu.edu).

- Are students who drive to the site insured by SDSU? No. Students are not covered with automobile insurance by the University while driving to, from an off campus work site. Interns/student employees shall not use personal vehicles to provide any type of service for work sites. Questions relating to driving should be directed to Risk Management.

- What do I do if a student is injured?: Review Student Injury Reporting.

- How often are SLA's reviewed? Per Executive Order 1064, "academic areas placing students in internship sites should conduct on an annual basis a review of the internships affiliated with their area." The purpose of the annual review is to assess the educational and risk factors at each learning activity site to see what has changed since the previous ISQ. Records regarding the regular review of off-campus sites are maintained by the faculty/department.

- Are students required to sign a liability waiver? Faculty should ensure each student participant signs a liability waiver before beginning work at a learning site that is off-campus.

- Is there a tool to help formalize a student's commitment or obligation with the community partner? Faculty may choose to implement a Learning Plan with students in a course or involved in a project. The Learning Plan can be an important tool for articulating learning and service objectives as well as student participation guidelines (i.e., expected behavior, inherent risks at the learning site, and injury reporting). A Learning Plan typically defines the beginning and ending dates of service, and identifies/provides contact information for the learning site contact/supervisor. It is recommended both faculty and students sign the Learning Plan to document understanding of the service learning expectations and participant guidelines. A copy may also be shared with the learning site contact/supervisor. In addition to a Release of Liability (Waiver), the Learning Plan helps to reduce liability exposure for both the university and the learning site. The CSU has developed a Learning Plan template for use by campus departments. Participation Guidelines may be amended to include information specific to a particular placement, i.e., driving requirements.
