School is the reason why you're not a profitable trader YET.

Here's how school subtly f*cked up your "trading mindset"...

And what you need to know to finally fix it and turn into a profitable trader.

Thread 2:

Before we begin, you must understand:

Your mindset > any trading strategy

Once you discover how school f*cked up your mind you can begin to reprogram it to find trading success.

Just read on...

Tweet 3:

Effort

School - "Work more to earn more!"

In trading, the market doesn't care about your hustle.

All that matters is your results.

Tweet 4:

Critical Thinking

School - "Can you memorise blocks of information that can be easily found on Google?"

Trading requires critical thinking, not memorisation.

Can you keep up with the markets?

Tweet 5:

Continuous Learning

School - "Once you have this degree you're done!"

Trading is the opposite.

The market never stops evolving and neither should you.

Tweet 6:

Risk-Averse Mindset

School - "If you fail this test you won't get a good job."

Losses in trading are inevitable.

It's about learning from them and minimising the impact...

Not avoiding them altogether.

Tweet 7:

Freedom

School - "Be at THIS place at THIS hour."

Trading offers the freedom to work from anywhere, anytime.

Tweet 8:

Emotional Intelligence

School - "Emotional control isn't on the syllabus"

But in trading, it's a make-or-break skill.

Tweet 9:

Copying

School - "Copying is cheating."

In trading, "copying" is a form of learning.

Especially if you're new to trading or not yet profitable...

Tweet 10:

If you're new to trading or not yet profitable..

The fastest way to learn and grow is to follow a profitable trader's setups...

And I post all my trading setups in real time in my FREE Discord group.
