

Here's the deal:

I'm looking to help a handful of busy business coaches this month with their email marketing.

Email marketing can be a great way to stay top of mind, especially when potential clients are considering investing in a high-ticket coaching program.

But as a business owner and a coach...

There may not be enough time in the day to:

- Do what you have to do on the daily
- Hop on calls with clients
- Hop on calls with potential clients
- Create and publish content to keep your pipeline full
- Do all of your admin tasks...

AND write your own emails.

That's a recipe for burnout.

So if writing a daily or weekly email seems like pulling teeth for you...

And you'd rather stick to your "Zone of Genius" than write emails to your list...

Let me stick to my Zone of Genius and write your emails FOR you.

Here's what my clients have to say:

"Thanks to Destrie's email services, I was able to generate an additional 18 leads. Five of these leads converted, generating a total of $1300 in sales. He was incredibly communicative and delivered on his value. He's great at copywriting and I look forward to working with him again on my next campaign."

"Destrie Monis hands down is one of the best copywriters I've ever known. He understands how to sequence the copy. Most don't."

-Eric Samdahl

"Destrie's emails pop from my overloaded inbox.

They stand out among the requests for money, time & attention because I'm guaranteed a breath of originality, a dose of generosity and a delivery of a smile."

Here's what we'll do:

1. I'll send you over a questionnaire to find out more about your goals, market, offer, and brand
2. After it's filled out, give me 3-5 days to get a weeks worth of emails written
3. I'll send it over to you for review, to make sure it's in your voice
4. Either upload them into your email service provider or have me do that for you

Here's what's included:

- I'll write 3 emails a week for 4 weeks (Total of 12 emails) to promote one of your offers to your email list
- You can either upload them or have me upload them into your email service provider for you

Here's the investment:

You can get started today with a deposit of $1000

And another payment of $1000 thirty days later.

If the emails I write don't help you to sell your offer and cover at least the deposit...

Then I'll refund back the deposit it took to write the campaign and you get to keep all of the emails I created for you.

So if you're ready to take writing emails to your list, off of your plate...

Email me at destrie@freestylecopywriter.com with the Subject Line: Email Marketing

I'll ask a few questions to see if I can help and then we can hop on a call to work out all the details.

Til next time...
