

This week, we celebrate a powerful milestone: the 10th anniversary of *Laudato Si', Pope Francis' landmark encyclical on care for our common home.

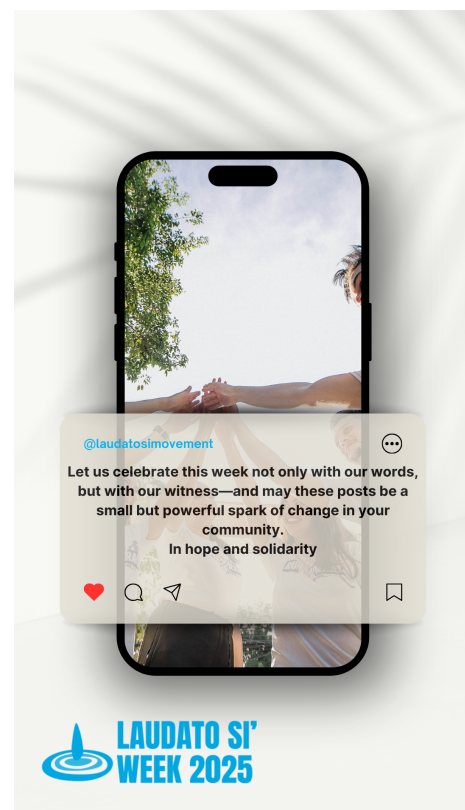

To honor this occasion and help raise awareness, we invite you to share daily reflections throughout Laudato Si' Week (May 24–31). Each post features a quote from Laudato Si' and a short meditation to inspire prayer, action, and hope.

✨ Copy and paste these reflections into your social media pages to help share the light.

📱 Use the hashtags #LS10 #RaisingHope #LaudatoSiWeek to join the global conversation and encourage others to do the same.

Let us celebrate this week not only with our words, but with our witness—and may these posts be a small but powerful spark of change in your community.

DOWNLOAD LINK DAILY REFLECTION IMAGES

May 24

Laudato Si', Pope Francis' encyclical on ecology, is turning 10 years old today! Pope Francis taught us that "Living our vocation to be protectors of God's handiwork is essential to a life of virtue." Protecting creation is not a side project for the faithful. Pope Leo XIV stands in a long line of Catholic leaders who have called us to honor our Creator by protecting creation. Today, ask yourself: How can I live this vocation more fully in my daily actions? #LS10 #RaisingHope #LaudatoSiWeek

May 24

"Living our vocation to be protectors of God's handiwork is essential to a life of virtue."
(LS 217)

Laudato Si', Pope Francis' encyclical on ecology, is turning 10 years old today!

Protecting creation is not a side project for the faithful. Pope Leo XIV stands in a long line of Catholic leaders who have called us to honor our Creator by protecting creation. Today, ask yourself: How can I live this vocation more fully in my daily actions?

#LS10 #RaisingHope #LaudatoSiWeek

May 25

This is the 10th anniversary of Laudato Si', Pope Francis' encyclical on creation. Laudato Si' says that "The climate is a common good, belonging to all and meant for all." When we speak of the climate, we speak of something fundamental to human life. God made the exquisite balance of creation to provide for everyone. Please join me in praying to understand who suffers most when creation is damaged and how we can stand together. #LS10 #RaisingHope

#LaudatoSiWeek

May 25

"The climate is a common good, belonging to all and meant for all."

When we speak of the climate, we speak of something fundamental to human life.

Laudato Si', Pope Francis' encyclical on ecology, is turning 10 years old!

Please join me in praying to understand who suffers most when creation is damaged and how we can stand together.

#LS10 #RaisingHope #LaudatoSiWeek

May 26

It's Laudato Si' Week! We're celebrating the 10th anniversary of Pope Francis' encyclical on this planet, "our common home." Laudato Si' says that "Everything is interconnected." This simple truth tells us that our bodies, souls, communities, and ecosystems form one delicate web. To neglect one thread is to weaken the whole. As you go through your day, become more aware of these connections. Practice gratitude for the water you drink, the food you eat, and the people who make your life possible. #LS10 #RaisingHope #LaudatoSiWeek

May 26

"Everything is interconnected." This simple truth tells us that our bodies, souls, communities, and ecosystems form one delicate web.

Laudato Si', Pope Francis' encyclical on ecology, is turning 10 years old!

As you go through your day, become more aware of these connections. Practice gratitude for the water you drink, the food you eat, and the people who make your life possible.

#LS10 #RaisingHope #LaudatoSiWeek

May 27

Did you know? Pope Francis' ecology encyclical, Laudato Si', turns 10 years old this week. It says that "The earth herself, burdened and laid waste, is among the most abandoned and maltreated of our poor." Pope Francis gives voice to a suffering Earth, echoing the biblical image of creation groaning (Rom 8:22). What would it mean to treat the Earth not as a resource, but as a precious creation of God? #LS10 #RaisingHope #LaudatoSiWeek

May 27

"The earth herself, burdened and laid waste, is among the most abandoned and maltreated of our poor."

Laudato Si', Pope Francis' encyclical on ecology, is turning 10 years old!

Pope Francis gives voice to a suffering Earth, echoing the biblical image of creation groaning (Rom 8:22). What would it mean to treat the Earth not as a resource, but as a precious creation of God?

#LS10 #RaisingHope #LaudatoSiWeek

May 28

I've found deep inspiration in Laudato Si', which has its 10th anniversary this week. It tells us that "We are not God. The earth was here before us and it has been given to us." This statement humbles our human pride. Creation is a gift, not a possession. In a culture of control and consumption, this is a prophetic reminder. Let us remember today to receive the world with reverence, recognizing that dominion does not mean domination, but responsible care in imitation of the Creator. #LS10 #RaisingHope #LaudatoSiWeek

May 28

"We are not God.
The earth was here
before us and it has been given to us."

Laudato Si', Pope Francis' encyclical on ecology, is turning 10 years old!

This statement humbles our human pride. Creation is a gift, not a possession. In a culture of control and consumption, this is a prophetic reminder. Let us remember today to receive the world with reverence, recognizing that dominion does not mean domination, but responsible care in imitation of the Creator.

#LS10 #RaisingHope #LaudatoSiWeek

May 29

Laudato Si' Week is here, and we're called to remember that "The cry of the earth and the cry of the poor are one and the same". We mistreat this planet, our common home, because we don't care for those who share it. Our love must be integral—a love that listens to all. Who are the poor you hear crying out today? How can you respond in love? #LS10 #RaisingHope #LaudatoSiWeek

May 29

“The cry of the earth and the cry of the poor are one and the same”.

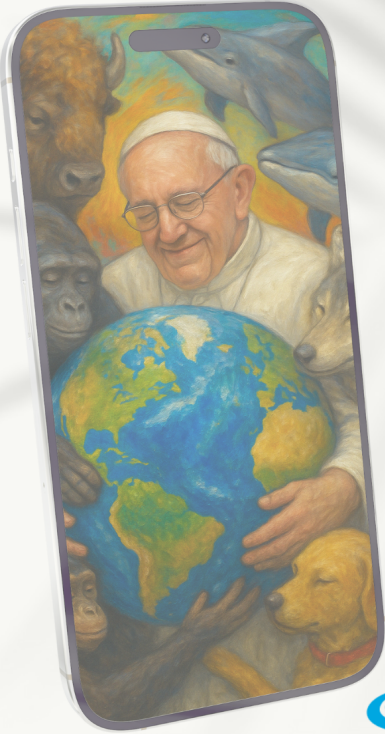

Laudato Si', Pope Francis' encyclical on ecology, is turning 10 years old!

We mistreat this planet, our common home, because we don't care for those who share it. Our love must be integral—a love that listens to all. Who are the poor you hear crying out today? How can you respond in love?

#LS10 #RaisingHope #LaudatoSiWeek

May 30

This is the 10th anniversary of Laudato Si', which tells us that "Hope would have us recognize that there is always a way out." Even in the face of ecological collapse and indifference, Christian hope endures. Not a passive hope, but one that motivates us to act with courage, creativity, and faith. Laudato Si' is not a lament alone—it is a call to resurrection. Let this hope guide your life as a witness to the God who makes all things new. #LS10 #RaisingHope #LaudatoSiWeek

May 30

"Hope would have us recognize that there is always a way out."

Laudato Si', Pope Francis' encyclical on ecology, is turning 10 years old!

Not a passive hope, but one that motivates us to act with courage, creativity, and faith. Laudato Si' is not a lament alone—it is a call to resurrection.

Let this hope guide your life as a witness to the God who makes all things new.

#LS10 #RaisingHope #LaudatoSiWeek

May 31

As we approach the end of this celebration, we want you to take a moment to share hope, “All it takes is one good person to restore hope.” Hope is born when even one heart dares to care. Laudato Si’ reminds us that change begins with people—people who choose to act with love, courage, and faith. As we end this Laudato Si’ Week, let us carry this hope into tomorrow. Let our lives be a ripple of restoration, a testimony that one person—anchored in God’s love—can help heal the world. #LS10 #RaisingHope #LaudatoSiWeek

May 31

“All it takes is one good person to restore hope.”

Laudato Si’, Pope Francis’ encyclical on ecology, is turning 10 years old!

Hope is born when even one heart dares to care.
Laudato Si’ reminds us that change begins with people—people who choose to act with love, courage, and faith.

#LS10 #RaisingHope #LaudatoSiWeek

DOWNLOAD LINK DAILY REFLECTION IMAGES