

The Pidgeon is Listening

Broken Fighters

Badass Barbie fighter Jordyn Jones has evidently taken one too many hits to the head and has now acquired a serious balance problem. Simply put, Jordyn has lost her ability to walk properly.

This is not ok! Don't the Barbies care for their fighters? Don't they provide proper medical care? Poor Jordyn looks like she's from the Ministry of Silly Walks.

Is Raccoon Going Bankrupt?

Leader turning evil. The stable humiliated by Kristen Stewart. Fighters failing to win fights... Things are not looking good for Raccoon. Now it appears that the stable is running out of funds! Why else would the Raccoon fighters be advertising obscure products in magazines, the internet and on TV?

Hanna-Maria Seppälä has lately been peddling a myriad of products from sports drinks and fish and chips to massage chairs, toothbrushes and questionable supplements.

Three former Raccoon leaders have also been promoting wares.

Alexandra Paul has been smiling for the cameras while stuffing her mouth with plums. That's not an easy task. She's also been showing off her muscles in Bally Total Fitness ads.

Chyler Leigh has been using her charms to sell satin dresses, leather boots, jewelry and ASICS sneakers.

Lacey Chabert, on the other hand, has been promoting makeup and Tyson Four Cheese Chicken Broccoli Pasta with gusto.

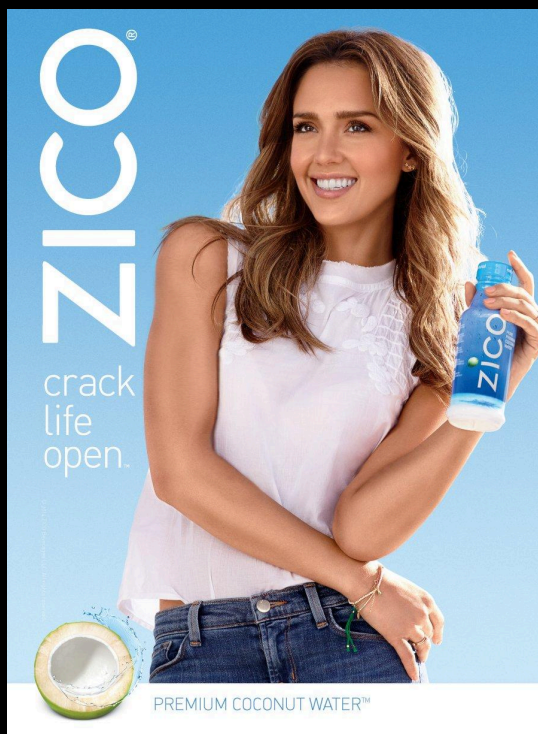

However, Raccoon is not the only stable feverishly looking for something to put in the coffers. It looks like all stables are using their, without doubt, exceptionally beautiful fighters to earn some extra cash. It has become clear that the UCC fighters are earning less than before the change from UMMA to UCC. Who is pocketing all the millions?

Hayden's Powergirls stable owner Hayden Panettiere, stable leader Jessica Alba and fighter Jessica Biel have been adorning the pages of magazines promoting luxury handbags, premium coconut water, and makeup among other things.

Hayden Panettiere - Dooney & Bourke

Jessica Alba - Zico Coconut Water

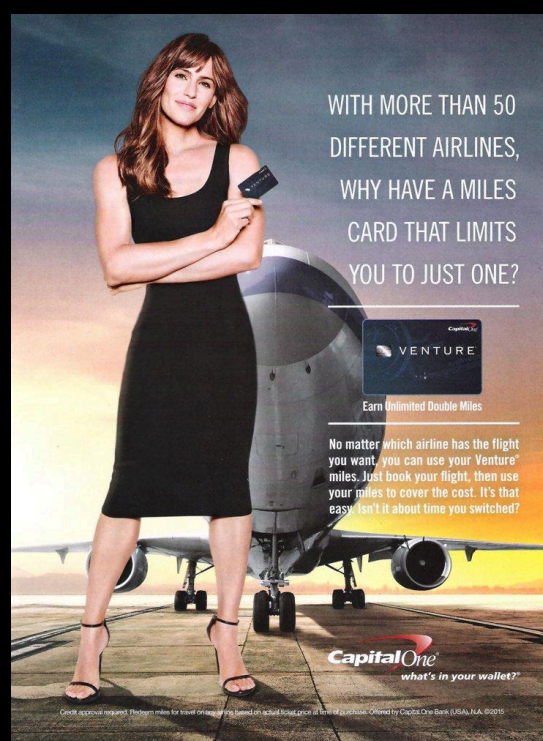

Jessica Biel - Revlon Eye-Liner

Stables like Hellfire Girls Club, Lost Wildcats, World of Fight and Badass Barbies have also forced their fighters to forfeit their dignity and promote junk of all kinds. For money, of course

Gal Gadot (Hellfire Girls Club) - Gucci Bamboo

Jennifer Garner (Lost Wildcats) - Capital One

Maria Sharapova (Hellfire Girls Club) showed that Tag Heuer watches not only tell the time, but can also improvise as knuckle dusters.

Badass Barbies & Strikeforce are so desperate that they forced Ashley Benson and Lucy Hale to work together to promote... Bongo. Sure, who wouldn't want to own a bongo... or a pair of bongos.

World of Fight fighters Natalie Portman and Mila Kunis have been flexing their muscles for Miss Dior and Gemfields.

Badass Barbie Megan Fox helped to sell Armani Jeans. Many were disappointed that a Fox was not included with every purchase. Misleading advertising at its best!

The Chyler Leigh Conspiracy

Chyler Leigh has recently undergone drastic changes - first she turned dark and evil due machinations of rival stables. She continued to run the stable for a surprisingly long time even if it was clear that she wasn't mentally fit for the task. Eventually she was moved aside and the reins of the stable were taken by Pamela Anderson. It took only a few days when suddenly the raging mistress of S&M turned into a sweet girl next door.

How can this...

...turn into this within a few days?

The Pidgeon has received a secret internal Raccoon memo with Anderson's plans on how to get the stable back on track. According to the memo, curing Leigh was top priority and until she was cured she would not do any public appearances. Yet right after Anderson took charge Leigh was out in the public! And we're not talking about the half-naked, chain adorned crazy woman, but the nice, down to earth normal Leigh! How is that possible?

One explanation could be that Chyler Leigh has been cloned. Not as a far-fetched idea that some might think - clones have been popping up from time to time in UMMA and UCC. Who could forget the horde of Lacey Chaberts that were released onto the world?

Or the flock of Hanna-Maria Seppäläs or the Hayden Panettieres of which a percentage were seriously flawed and turned into bloodthirsty maniacs?

Lesser known clones were the Annasophia Robb triplets who were not allowed to participate in the Dr. Martens tournament; and Victoria Justice who was turning heads in Sydney, Australia last month. Not forgetting Katie Cassidy who has been confusing fans around the world with her doppelgänger. Maybe one of them is her alter ego Black Canary, who knows?

The Kristen Stewarts have been shocking people with their lewd behavior.

Based on secret reports most of the clones from the first wave have been hunted down and disposed of!

However, this is not the case with 'Chyler Leigh'. The Chyler Leigh we have seen the past weeks is not a clone!

Take a look at the images below – are these the same person? Presumably they are not.

Below, left to right, we have security chief Alex Danvers, medical chief Lexie Grey, ‘good’ Chyler Leigh and ‘evil’ Chyler Leigh. Three women who bear a striking resemblance. A resemblance that new stable leader Anderson decided to utilize!

According to the secret memo, Leigh was to be replaced by either Danvers or Grey until she was cured! We believe that this is exactly what has happened! The only question is, is it Danvers or Grey we have seen posing as Leigh and fighting in the octagon? ‘Danvers’ most would say without a second thought. However, based on inside sources Dr. Grey is also a formidable fighter and in fact, Grey beat both Leigh and Danvers in a chin up contest during Xmas19! So ‘Chyler’ might be either Danvers or Grey, or perhaps both of them!

Fret not, the Pidgeon will find out!

The Pidgeon also promises to find out who these two women are.

And while the Pidgeon is on the case the Pidgeon will also look into the mystery of the photos on the next page! Who or what are they? Clones, shapeshifting aliens or something more sinister!
