

SL: YEARS of struggle gone to waste...
($420.000 gone within a blink of an eye)

I was working at a coffee shop, slaving away, earning a small wage, knowing there has to be a better way.

There was always this one badass regular, with a model-like girlfriend, speeding away in his sportscar.

One day he told me he was trading "Forex".

I dedicated all my waking hours to learning about this new discovery.

After years of frustration, anger, and no progress things finally started looking good.

Fast forward 3 years I actually quit my job, bought a fancy car, and traveled the world,

All while landing a funded account of $420k in the year 2020.

That was it, I was living my dream life.

I had it all and I truly could not be happier, but I let it get the best of me.

Then, one day, I lost everything.

Poof!

Gone...

OVERNIGHT.

You see, that's exactly why I teach Forex - to save traders years of struggle by learning from my mistakes.

So, how did I overcome the worst 3 months of my life, to now being in an even better position one year later?

Click here to find out how I went from \$420k to \$0 overnight - plus how I bounced back.

- Seb

P.S. - Tomorrow I will share a secret to becoming a top 4% trader so be on the lookout.