

Should we go to war with ISIS?

Scenario: You are an advisor to the President of the United States. You are giving the final recommendation to the President about what course of action the United States will take. You are going to help the President make a decision about launching a ground war(American Soldiers fighting in Syria and Iraq) or to use diplomacy(non-violent means.)

Requirements for Presentation: To be a credible source you will need to explain the current situation in Iraq and Syria. You will be justifying your decision based on your macro and micro understanding of the:

-History

-Geography

-Religion

-Politics

-Current Events

-What will soldier's face?

-Repercussions (What you believe that will happen as a result of your decision as well as what might happen if you did the opposite).

Please make sure you explain the different factors on both the macro and micro level.
