

Subject: Request for Meeting – Concern About Corporate Control in Australia

Dear [Title] [Last Name],

My name is [Your Full Name], and I am a constituent of [Your Electorate/Suburb] deeply concerned about the increasing influence of large corporations over Australian politics, media, and essential services.

I am writing to ask: What are you and your party currently doing to address corporate control and ensure democratic accountability in Australia? Specifically, I'm concerned about issues such as:

- The concentration of media ownership and its effect on public discourse
- Corporate donations influencing political decisions
- Market domination by conglomerates like Wesfarmers, Woolworths, and multinationals

I would greatly appreciate the opportunity to meet with you or a member of your team to share my perspective and hear more about the actions you are taking or planning in this area.

Please let me know if there is a time available in the coming weeks for a brief conversation or meeting. I am happy to meet in person, online, or over the phone—whatever suits your schedule best.

Thank you for your time and service to our community.

Kind regards,

Subject: Concern About Corporate Control – Community Discussion Request

Dear [Councillor/Mayor/MP Name],

I hope this message finds you well.

I'm reaching out as a concerned local resident of [Your Suburb], increasingly troubled by the growing influence of large corporations in Australian society—particularly in areas such as media ownership, political donations, supermarket dominance, and housing development.

While I understand that as a [local/state representative], you may not have a direct vote on federal economic or regulatory policy, I wanted to ask:

Are you aware of these concerns, and what role do you believe local communities can play in resisting or reducing the influence of corporate power in our democracy and everyday lives?

I'd really appreciate the opportunity to speak with you directly—either in person or online—about what can be done at a community level, and whether these concerns are being raised through local advocacy or intergovernmental forums.

Thank you for your time and your ongoing work for our community.

Warm regards,
