

Joe Carroll has worked in aerospace since 1981 and is now mostly retired. He developed the space tether systems for SEDS, PMG, SEDS-2, TiPS, and TEPCE. His focus now is on rotating space stations to quantify the long-term health and appeal of living in Moon, Mars, or variable gravity.