Grade 3 this week: Reading Questioning Routines & Strategies: The students will take turns reading and rereading text using "Stop -n- Go reading," "echo" reading, "whisper" reading, and "choral" reading to improve fluency. Model fluent reading. Stop, discuss, and use "CLOSE" reading exercises. Use post-it notes or whiteboards to practice note taking skills and written reading responses to enhance comprehension . When relevant, note chronological order and sequence words or signal words to help students understand the order of the story. Use highlighting tape to locate specific text evidence or a favorite line. Ask questions and model the "think aloud" strategy to develop comprehension skills. Build inference strategies by asking questions such as... "I wonder why...?" "I wonder how...?" "I wonder if...?" Determine "the big idea" and identify features of text. Analyze text, craft, and structure: When opportunities arise, point out the Author's Craft – how authors choose words very carefully to show how they feel about a topic. Cite key vocabulary words and have students use context clues to discover the meaning of each word. Look for and discuss key vocabulary. Clarify vocabulary by using examples, nonexamples, synonyms & antonyms. Celebrate the sentence structure, or the way the author puts words together to recognize part of the author's voice. Observe the author's text structure/ ways the text is organized. Notice how metaphors are comparisons of two different things that can also be showcasing the author's voice. Take time to dig deep into the author's meaning behind the text.

Duty Instructions:
3:25 Dismissal Duty - Pick up grade 1 car riders in Magistro & Digon's rooms. Escort these students to the office lobby and then go outside after the announcements begin. Assist with dismissal outside by standing next to #3 and #2 cones to ensure safety of the kids entering the cars for pick up.

Stand by the parking cones and open up car doors for each car as they enter. Students will enter in the back driver's side seat. If a car is out of order, ask the driver to go to the ? spot. Please ask each child, "Is that your parent?" Always ask for ID if you are unsure. You may need to send a child to their correct spot once the child sees their parent.
